around we have the opportunity to be much more purposeful and intentional and that's where The Distance Learning Playbook for College and University Instruction will prove absolutely indispensable. Much more than a collection of cool tools and apps, The Distance Learning Playbook for College and University Instruction mobilizes decades of Visible Learning research to reveal those evidence-based strategies that work best in an online environment. Supplemented by video footage and opportunities to self-assess and reflect, the book addresses every dynamic that must be in place for students to learn even at a distance: Faculty-student relationships from a distance, Teacher credibility from a distance, Teacher clarity from a distance, Engaging tasks from a distance, Planning learning experiences from a distance, Feedback assessment and grading from a distance, Keeping the focus on learning from a distance or otherwise. What does our post-COVID future hold? We suspect Fisher, Frey, Almarode, and Hattie write it will include increased amounts of distance learning. In the meantime, let's seize on what we have learned to improve post-secondary education in any format, whether face-to-face or from a distance. We are all still active faculty members committed to teaching, scholarship, and service. The unexpected transition to remote learning doesn't mean we no longer know how to teach. We can still impact the lives of our students and know that we made a difference. The Distance Learning Playbook for College and University Instruction will show you how.

Douglas Fisher, Nancy Frey, John Almarode, and John Hattie Fire and Life Safety Educator Marsha P. Giesler, 2024-09 Teachers, Learners, Modes of Practice David Dirlam, 2017-02-17. Summarizing a half-century of work on the problem of identifying units of analysis for complex human behaviour, this book introduces modes of practice as a unit of analysis for the science and design of human activities and shows how to record them and create field guides at scales from individual to society. Revealing scientific analysis of human practices has been hampered by the lack of a unit of analysis. Dirlam describes how the difficulties of defining a unit are overcome by combining insights from mathematics and human development. Part II presents methods for developmental surveys and interviews that enable social scientists, designers, and education or training assessment professionals to gather data on modes of practice. Part III provides practical descriptions of how to organize interviews into developmental surveys that can be used by a community. Part IV inspires future advances in research and design. Concrete examples from science, design, and learning assessment are used throughout, and the appendix includes the results of 300 developmental interviews organized into exploratory descriptions of modes of practice and commitment.

And how did the mambo, the Beatles, and Bob Dylan sound on the front lines of the Cold War in Asia? In Circuit Listening, Andrew F.
