Self, War, and Society Mary Jo Deegan, 2017-09-08 George Herbert Mead 1863 1931 is a founding figure in the field of sociology His stature is comparable to that of his contemporaries Emile Durkheim and Max Weber Mead s contribution was a profound and unique American theory that analyzed society and the individual as social objects As Mead saw it both society and the individual emerged from cooperative democratic processes linking the self the other and the community Mary Jo Deegan a leading scholar of Mead s work traces the evolution of his thought its continuity and change She is particularly interested in the most controversial period of Mead s work in which he addressed topics of violence and the nation state Mead s theory of war peace and society emerged out of the historical events of his time particularly World War I During this period he went from being a pacifist along with his contemporaries John Dewey and Jane Addams to being a strong advocate for war From 1917 1918 Mead became a leader in voicing the need for war based on his theory of self and society After the war he became disillusioned with President Woodrow Wilson with Americans failure to support mechanisms for international arbitration and with the political reasons for American participation in World War I He returned to a more pacifist and co operative model of behavior during the 1920s when he became less political more abstract and more withdrawn from public debate The book includes Deegan s interpretation of Mead s early social thought his friendship and family networks the historical context of America at war and the importance of analysis of violence and the state from Mead s perspective She also provides illustrative selections from Mead s work much of which was previously unpublished Hegel: Lectures on the Philosophy of Religion Peter C. Eleanor Smith's Hull House Songs Graham Cassano, Rima Lunin Schultz, Jessica Payette, 2018-11-26 In Eleanor Smith's Hull House Songs The Music of Protest and Hope in Jane Addams's Chicago the authors republish Hull House Songs 1916 together with critical commentary Hull House Songs contains five politically engaged compositions written by the Hull House music educator Eleanor Smith The commentary that accompanies the folio includes an examination of Smith's poetic sources and musical influences a study of Jane Addams's aesthetic theories and a complete history of the arts at Hull House Through this focus upon aesthetic and cultural programs at Hull House the authors identify the external and internalized forces of domination class position racial identity patriarchal disenfranchisement that limited the work of the Hull House women while also recovering the sometimes hidden emancipatory possibilities of their legacy With an afterword by Jocelyn Zelasko
