Sir Henry Lee (1533-1611): Elizabethan Courtier Sue Simpson, 2016-04-01 A favourite of Queen Elizabeth I Sir Henry Lee was known as the most accomplished cavaliero in England This handsome entertaining and highly convivial gentleman was an important participant in life at court as Elizabeth's tournament champion He created the spectacular Accession Day tournaments held annually before London crowds of more than 8 000 people was Lieutenant of Elizabeth's palace at Woodstock and Master of the Armoury at the Tower of London during the Spanish Armada This is the only biography of Sir Henry Lee in print and explores the interaction of politics culture and society of the Elizabethan court through the eyes of a popular and long serving courtier Indeed few other courtiers managed to live such a long and satisfying life and although this study of Sir Henry's life shows a diverse nature typical of many Elizabethan gentlemen his travels to the courts of Italy his knowledge of arms and armour his delight in the world of emblems and symbolism his close association with Philip Sidney and his intimate relationship with a notorious woman at least thirty years his junior it also questions what it meant to be a courtier Was the game actually worth the candle Autobiographical Tightropes Leah D. Hewitt,1990-01-01 In order to write said Simone de Beauvoir the first essential condition is that reality can no longer be taken for granted She and four other French women writers of the second half of the twentieth century Nathalie Sarraute Marguerite Duras Monique Wittig and Maryse Condé illustrate that producing autobiography is like performing a tightrope act on the slippery line between fact and fiction Autobiographical Tightropes emphasizes the tension in the works of these major writers as they move in and out of experience and literature violating the neat boundaries between genres and confusing the distinctions between remembering and creating Focusing on selected works Leah D Hewitt for the first time anywhere explores the connections among the authors In doing so she shows how contemporary women's autobiography in France links with feminist issues literary tradition and trends and postmodern theories of writing In light of these theories Hewitt offers a new reading of de Beauvoir's memoirs and reveals how her attempt to represent the past faithfully is undone by irony by literary and feminine detours Other analysts of Nathalie Sarraute's writing have dwelt mainly on formal considerations of the New Novel but Hewitt exposes a repressed forbidden feminine aspect in her literary innovations Unlike Sarraute Duras cannot be connected with just one literary movement political stance style or kind of feminism because her writing largely autobiographical is marked by chameleon like transformations The chapters on Wittig and Condé show how within the bounds of feminism lesbians and women of color challenge the individualistic premises of autobiography Hewitt demonstrates that despite vast differences among these five writers all of them reveal in their autobiographical works the self's need of a fictive other Psalms : Volume 2 (Teach the Text Commentary Series) C. Hassell Bullock,2017-12-05 The Teach the Text Commentary Series utilizes the best of biblical scholarship to provide the information a pastor needs to communicate the text effectively The carefully selected preaching units and focused commentary allow pastors to quickly grasp the big idea and key themes of each passage of Scripture Each unit of the commentary includes the big idea and key themes of the passage and sections dedicated to understanding teaching and illustrating the text The French Tradition and the Literature of Medieval England William Calin,1994-12-15 The French presence in English literary history in the centuries following the Conquest has to some extent been glossed over or treated as an interlude During this period roughly 1100-1420 French like Latin was the language of the educated in the courts of England and for nobles clerics and the rising commercial elements communication was multilingual In his ground breaking study William Calin explores in depth this era of medieval English literature and culture in relation to its distinctly French influences and contemporaries He examines the Anglo Norman contribution to medieval literature concentrating on romance and hagiography the great continental French texts such as Prose Lancelot and the Romance of the Rose which had a dominant role in shaping literature in English and the English response to the French cultural world the two modes in English where the French presence was most significant court poetry

Chaucer Gower Hoccleve and Middle English romance This book is grounded in French sources both well known and relatively obscure Translations of the Old French make The French Tradition and the Literature of Medieval England accessible to scholars and students of Medieval English comparatists and historians as well as those proficient in French Calin develops a synthesis of medieval French and English literature that will be especially useful for classroom study
