One People For God Search For Truth Series:

A Search for Truth "I Rest My Case" Alex Vercellino, 2024-10-21 The author's lifelong search for the truth about Christianity contains information you won't learn in church. There is no other book like it on the market. It's an easy read yet thorough. It's written to appeal to anyone looking for answers about Christianity whether they go to church on a regular basis or never attend church. The author's mission is to help people who don't embrace Christianity to better understand why they might have made that decision and feel okay about it. For those who embrace the faith, it provides insight into how Christians can learn from the past and be a better force for good in the future. It's a must read for anyone seeking the truth about Christianity. Proceeds from the sale of the book will be donated to food banks.

Searching for Truth John Moore, 2007 In our world everyone is searching for something. If you are searching for answers to questions regarding God, Jesus, hope, happiness, faith, life after death, good and evil, the church, the Bible, God's plan for you, or Jesus' love for you, the answers to these can be found in this book. This book includes extended question sections including a Section Review after each section and a Chapter Review at the end of each chapter. To close out the chapter, there is a Digging Deeper section which includes additional verses on the subject matter that are not used in the text with questions regarding those verses. The answer to every question can be found in the Answer Key section at the end of the book.

Who Do You Say That I Am? Calvin E. Shenk, 2006-04-07 Out of long involvement with adherents of many religions, Shenk dares to assert that one can be profoundly respectful of people of other faith traditions and still retain the integrity of one's own faith. Foreword by Wilbert R. Shenk. Can we respect other religions and still view Christ as normative for all? Yes, says Calvin Shenk, Professor Emeritus of Religion at Eastern Mennonite University. How? Answers are not simple. However, biblical perspectives on religions provide reliable starting points for the journey. And placing Christ at the center of the quest yields clarity amid complexity. For Christians, candid commitment to the uniqueness of Christ is to be accomplished by the integrity of Christ. This leads to loving witness that includes truly dialoguing with persons committed to other religions. Who Do You Say That I Am assesses contemporary theologies of religious pluralism as well as several of the world's major religions yet remains accessible to all thoughtful Christians.

Asian American Christianity Reader Timothy Tseng, Viji Nakka-Cammauf, 2009-08-20 This textbook is an interdisciplinary collection of scholarly and religious articles about Asian American Christianity. Its four sections—contexts, sites, identity, and voices—offer in-depth understanding of both Catholic and Protestant traditions, practices, theologies, and faith communities. It also highlights diversity and complexity across lines of gender, generation, denomination, race, and ethnicity in Asian American Christianity.

Shaking the Fundamentals Jan van Lin, 2016-08-09 The issue central to this study can be considered one of the most pressing facing the World Council of Churches today and in the decades to come and is much greater than that which confronted the International Mission Council in the years 1910 to 1938. The question answered in this study is what significance can the theology of religions as it developed between 1910 Edinburgh and 1938 Tambaram have for present day endeavours to develop a more common understanding and vision within the ecumenical movement as regards the theological problem of religious plurality. This significance becomes clear in the conclusions and suggestions in the final chapter. One of these conclusions is that classic Trinitarian theology and Pneumatology will be incapable of drawing the theology of religions out of the present impasse as long as traditional Christological models continue to exist within them. A commemoration of the Edinburgh meeting will undoubtedly be organized in 2010 and in view of this commemoration Dr van Lin suggests considering the possibility of starting a process of reflection on the World Council of Churches theology of religions similar to those on Baptism, Eucharist and Ministry and Towards the Common Expression of the Apostolic Faith Today. Given the fact that the study of religious plurality shakes the ecumenical movement to its foundations within the foreseeable future, serious thought has to be given to placing the study of the theology of religions on the agenda of Faith and Order within the World Council of Churches. Tales ,1905 The Reform Advocate ,1926
