

A woman with dark hair, wearing a black leather jacket, stands in the center of the frame. She has large, brown, bat-like wings spread out behind her. The background is a deep black space filled with stars. Below her, the Earth is visible as a large blue and white sphere. In the lower foreground, a sleek, black, futuristic aircraft with sharp wings and a pointed nose is flying towards the right. The overall scene has a sci-fi or fantasy theme.

The Swings of Science Len Pismen, 2018-12-06 This book is a personal account of some aspects of the emergence of modern science mostly from the viewpoint of those branches of physics which provided the much needed paradigm shift of more is different that heralded the advent of complexity science as an antidote to the purely reductionist approach in fundamental physics It is also about the humans that have helped to shape these developments including personal reminiscences and the realization that the so called exact sciences are inevitably also a social endeavour with all its facets Served by the razor sharp wit of the author this erudite ramble is meant to be neither comprehensive nor systematic but its generous insights will give the inquisitive academically trained mind a better understanding of what science and physics in particular could or should be about Leghorn World ,1924 The Leghorn World ,1924 An introduction to the modern classification of insects John Obadiah Westwood, 1839 Calculation of Transonic Potential Flow Past Wing-tail-fuselage Configurations Using the Multigrid Method Arvin Shmilovich, 1984 Information on Soviet Bloc International Geophysical Cooperation United States.
