Constructing the Cyberterrorist Gareth Mott,2019-11-05 This book maps and analyses the official British construction of the threat of cyberterrorism By using interpretive discourse analysis this book identifies strands from a corpus of policy documents statements and speeches from UK Ministers MPs and Peers between 12 May 2010 and 24 June 2016 The book examines how the threat of cyberterrorism was constructed in the UK and what this securitisation has made possible The author makes novel contributions to the Copenhagen School s securitisation theory framework by outlining a tiered rather than monolithic audience system refining the temporal and spatial conditioning of a securitisation with reference to the distinctive characteristics of cyberterrorism and lastly by detailing the way in which popular fiction can be ascribed agency to fill in an absence of cyberterrorism case studies He also argues that the UK government s classification of cyberterrorism as a Tier One threat created a central strand upon which a discursive securitisation was established This book will be of interest to students of Critical Security Studies terrorism studies UK politics and international relations
