Watts,Franz Andres Morrissey,2019-01-31 The relationship between language and music has much in common rhythm structure sound metaphor Exploring the phenomena of song and performance this book presents a sociolinguistic model for analysing them Based on ethnomusicologist John Blacking s contention that any song performed communally is a folk song regardless of its generic origins it argues that folk song to a far greater extent than other song genres displays communal or inclusive types of performance The defining feature of folk song as a multi modal instantiation of music and language is its participatory nature making it ideal for sociolinguistic analysis In this sense a folk song is the product of specific types of developing social

Chinese Recorder and Missionary Journal ,1900 Linguistic Structure and Change Thomas Berg, 1998 Thomas Berg challenges context free theories of linguistics he is concerned with the way the term explanation is typically used in the discipline He argues that real explanations cannot emerge from a view which asserts the autonomy of language but only from an approach which seeks to establish a connection between language and the contexts in which it is embedded The author examines the psychological context in detail He uses an interactive activation model of language processing to derive predictions about synchronic linguistic patterns the course of linguistic change and the structure of poetic rhymes The majority of these predictions are borne out leading the author to conclude that the structure of language is shaped by the properties of the mechanism which puts it to use and that psycholinguistics thus qualifies as one likely approach from which to derive an explanation of linguistic structure
