Prelim Exam Paper For Gauteng 2012:

Commercial Law Reports 2012 ,2012-12-31      Acid Mine Drainage and its Governance in the Gauteng

City-Region Kerry Bobbins,2015-05-29 Acid mine drainage AMD has generated an enormous amount of media interest and public concern in the Gauteng City Region GCR over the last decade However it has been framed as a narrow technical concern with government action being directed towards securing the necessary engineering and processing solutions as quickly as possible to prevent decant and treat acid mine water to industrial standards This has arguably limited the scope for full discussion and debate on the impacts of AMD particularly for the environment and this bears implications for how AMD has been managed in the GCR Government s immediate short and long term interventions to address AMD have been set out as a straight forward solution but over time more complex environmental concerns have emerged Becoming more evident over the last few years is that one of the main impacts of AMD will be its effect on the overall water security in the Vaal River System VRS on which the GCR relies for its supply of potable water Limits on water abstraction from the VRS together with the increasing need to maintain the overall water quality in the system through dilution and treatment activities means that AMD is beginning to manifest as a binding constraint on economic development and a burden on society in particular via escalating costs for water consumers Fiscal constraints are likely to see GCR residents and businesses pick up more and more of the costs associated with the treatment of AMD through the format of increased municipal tariffs With final decisions on municipal tariffs now pending the broader yet invisible impacts of AMD loom large This means that the debate has moved far beyond the issue of predicted decant in each of the Witwatersrand s mining basins Water security for the GCR and who will carry the costs associated with the long term treatment of AMD have instead taken centre stage This paper carefully updates the historical record on AMD since the publishing of a GCRO Provocation on the issue in 2010 In doing so it argues that the way in which AMD has been governed raises a flag around how the political economy of an issue such as AMD should be understood publicly debated and managed In particular it suggests that the governance of an environmental challenge such as AMD is not only about finding a technical solution The lack of platforms to ensure well informed public deliberation especially over such issues as who will pay and how must be addressed to ensure more equitable and transparent decision making In light of the broader mine waste legacy inherited by the GCR and the strong likelihood of environmental contamination becoming more commonplace in the future these concerns are not only limited to AMD They will only grow in importance over time      Taking Economic, Social and Cultural Rights Seriously in

International Criminal Law Evelyne Schmid,2015-04-02 Is the neglect of economic social and cultural abuses in international criminal law a problem of positive international law or the result of choices made by lawyers involved in mechanisms such as criminal prosecutions or truth commissions Evelyne Schmid explores this question via an assessment of the relationship between violations of economic social and cultural rights and international crimes Based on a thorough examination of the elements of international crimes she demonstrates how a situation can simultaneously be described as a violation of economic social and cultural rights and as an international crime Against the background of the emerging debates on selectivity in international criminal law and the role of socio economic and cultural abuses in transitional justice she argues that international crimes overlapping with violations of economic social and cultural rights deserve to be taken seriously for much the same reasons as other international crimes

Twenty Years of Education Transformation in Gauteng 1994 to 2014 Felix Maringe,Martin Prew,2015-05-05 Twenty Years of Education Transformation in Gauteng 1994 to 2014 An Independent Review presents a collection of 15 important essays on different aspects of education in Gauteng since the advent of democracy in 1994 These essays talk to what a provincial education department does and how and why it does these things whether it be about policy resourcing or implementing projects Each essay is written by one or more specialist in the relevant focus area The book is written to be accessible to the general reader as well as being informative and an essential resource for the specialist reader It sheds light on aspects of how a provincial department operates and why and with what consequences certain decisions have been made in education over the last 20 turbulent years both nationally and provincially There has been no attempt to fit the books chapters into a particular ideological or educational paradigm and as a result the reader will find differing views on various aspects of the Gauteng Department of Educations present and past We leave the reader to decide to what extent the GDE has fulfilled its educational mandate over the last 20 years

Mintirho ya Vulavula Jabulisile Mhlambi,Sandile Ngidi,2021-04-19 Mintirho ya Vulavula Arts National Identities and Democracy examines the role of arts and culture in development and specifically its value in consolidating our nascent democracy and in facilitating the transformation of South African society Contributors to this edited volume interrogate the role of arts culture and heritage from a transdisciplinary perspective enriched by the cross generational perspectives offered by young and older artists cultural practitioners activists and scholars Authors also offer some policy recommendations on how the contribution of arts and culture to social cohesion and nation building can be enhanced

The Report: South Africa 2013 Oxford Business Group,2013-09-04 The Rainbow Nation benefits from an internationally competitive private sector which accounts for roughly 70% of GDP and extremely competitive infrastructure its utility sector for example produces just under half of the total power generated on the African continent South Africa represents by far the most developed market in Africa but there are still some structural challenges it is grappling with Government strategies have set a target of increasing labour market participation from 54% in 2010 to 65% by 2030 bringing the number of workers in the formal sector to 25.3m people and lowering unemployment from 25% to 6%. While its fiscal space is narrow long term investments in infrastructure education and health are expected to be key to attaining its growth potential. Recent years have seen both the public and private sectors look to strengthen regulatory frameworks in mining and industry in some cases like the automotive sector with impressive results.

African, American and European Trajectories of Modernity Peter Wagner, 2015-03-09 African American and European Trajectories of Modernity asks why from some moment onwards Europe and the rest of the world entered into a particular relationship one of domination conceived as a kind of superiority and as an advance in historic.

The Education Triple Cocktail Brahm Fleisch, 2018-08-15 The Education Triple Cocktail brings together rigorous quantitative and qualitative research on a new approach to improving foundational teaching and learning for schoolchildren living in working class poor and remote rural communities in resource constrained systems like South Africa. At the core of this book is the theory and evidence for a powerful new interlocking and mutually reinforcing change model. Inspired by the AIDS treatment story the three pronged approach of structured daily lesson plans appropriate and high quality educational materials and one on one instructional coaching to help teachers transform their instructional practices in early grade classrooms shows that it will improve learning outcomes. For education systems defined by low levels of early grade learning and profoundly unequal outcomes The Education Triple Cocktail offers a theoretically informed evidence based way forward. This book will be of immense use to teachers students of Education policymakers and parents.
