Open Learning as a Means of Advancing Social Justice Tabisa Mayisela, Shanali Govender, 2024-01-23 This volume investigates the uptake of open learning in South African Technical Vocational Education and Training TVET colleges and higher education institutions Comprised of 16 studies focused on activities at a range of colleges and universities across the country these chapters aim to promote a better understanding of open learning practices across the Post School Education and Training PSET sector including issues such as recognition of prior learning access for students with disabilities work integrated learning professional development novel student funding mechanisms leadership for open educational practices institutional culture student support blended and online learning flexible learning online assessment open educational resource development models and funding and micro credentials This collection of peer reviewed chapters contributes to understanding the ways in which South African PSET institutions and educators are interpreting open learning as a means of advancing social justice It includes a historical and contemporary understanding of the economic cultural and political obstacles facing PSET drawing on Nancy Fraser s theory of social justice as participatory parity to better understand the ways in which open learning may address systemic social injustices in order to allow South African students and educators to thrive This volume emerges from research conducted by the Cases on Open Learning COOL project an initiative by the Department of Higher Education and Training in partnership with the Centre for Innovation in Learning and Teaching CILT at the University of Cape Town UCT in South Africa

Emancipatory Imaginations Dina Zoe Belluigi, André Keet, 2025-02-28 The study of higher education presupposes the goodness of the university and the academy and the scholars who study them Yet the social justice intent of both have long been questioned and may be emptied out This book explores generative developments of other ways to study more critically and productively the university across disciplines While framed affirmatively this endeavour is a space of refusal Refusal of the status quo of the taken for granted and of hegemonic powers and violences that continue within and outside higher education institutions Part I explores possible emancipatory frames to in form transformative change and its enquiry Its four chapters deliberate how Critical University Studies may be advanced in relation to its own histories of intellectual emergence decolonial theory Abolitionist Studies sustainable development and the African university Part II asks questions about the conditions of possibility for advancing Critical University Studies Particular disciplines fields of study cases contexts and methods of analysis are discussed within the contexts of Canada Germany India South Africa and the United Kingdom Exploring the effects on different academic citizens and figures the six chapters in this section combine to assert the pervasiveness of the problematics of the politics of participation for marginalised and minoritised academic citizens agency and authority and to uphold the value of resistance in the formation and authorisation of persons and knowledges Part III re turns to the necessity for reflexivity The two chapters engage with its importance for scholarship and praxes for critical work to be disruptive Recognising the potential of critique to re produce harmful patterns requires such logics and desires be identified and interrupted Emancipatory Imaginations Advancing Critical University Studies mobilises engagement with the question of how the critical study of the university is to be advanced in scholarship framing practice and praxes within beyond and against traditions of the past and present It is thus of interest to academics students and intellectuals who are concerned with transformative change within universities
