Hodgkinson,2025-04-01 A century ago Charles Leonard Woolley directed the first excavations at Amarna site M50 14 16 identifying it as a workshop for glass and faience However the archaeological record and its publication in The City of Akhenaten I were somewhat superficial New excavations conducted by the Amarna Project in 2014 and 2017 yielded extensive evidence of glass faience stone and metalworking reaffirming the site s role as a workshop These investigations also illuminated its domestic character uncovering valuable data on houses and other structural remains This volume presents a near complete record of the site offering a comprehensive archaeological and architectural evaluation alongside in depth analyses of material culture including archaeobotany charcoal animal bones ceramics and other artefacts The individual chapters reconstruct the chaines operatoires of various craft production activities Additionally the organisation of production and the concept of cross craft interaction are explored as the site is situated within the broader industrial network of Amarna This volume furthermore provides an in depth examination of the inhabitants roles and daily lives enriching our understanding of this significant site Notes and Queries ,1917 Forest Research Note California Forest and Range Experiment Station, Berkeley,1948 The Handbook of Veterinary Care and Management of the Military Working Dog - Including Anesthesia / Pain Management Standards ,2017-10-17 PREFACE Since 9 11 the veterinary care of Military Working Dogs MWDs has assumed a greater importance The role of the working dog has never been more visible and more appreciated At this writing there are a large number of MWDs deployed throughout the world in support of the Global War on Terrorism Many people both in and out of uniform are coming to realize that MWDs are among the most valuable and cost effective counterterrorism tools we have Before 9 11 detector dogs and their skills were largely taken for granted even downplayed Comments like MWDs are low tech and Dogs will be replaced by sensors imaging techniques and computers were not uncommon Detector dogs have become a very visible front line protective measure against bomb threats check out the headlines on suicide bombers to see what our terrorist enemies are up to Then check out the film clips that show security forces in action the dogs are everywhere These are reminders that no other tool in the arsenal can match the efficiency mobility adaptability and field readiness of a working dog So what s new why publish a new edition now Yes 9 11 did change things this edition now has guidelines for MWDs exposed to Anthrax This third edition of the Handbook also contains new information about the prophylactic laparoscopic assisted gastropexy program that aims to protect our most at risk dogs from GDV We also provide guidelines on transitioning from once daily feeding to feeding two meals a day the Dog Center now feeds over 500 MWDs twice a day Additionally we have updated information about MWD Adoption a program that has come of age in the 2 years since the publication of the second edition Also in an effort to provide a one stop resource for working dog policy this edition now incorporates topics that were formerly available only as VETCOM policy letters These and other revisions make this new MWD Handbook one of the most up to date resources for military veterinarians caring for MWD s and other Federal Agency working dogs All veterinary personnel involved in anesthesia should familiarize themselves with these standards as some previously used agents such as butorphanol acepromazine glycopyrrolate combination tiletamine zolazepam and xylazine have been removed from the guidance The world will continue to change and our veterinary care will also change as our knowledge new technology and improved therapeutics become available Our commitment to the health care of MWDs is a constant Keep up the good work builds your knowledge of and confidence in making inferences from data Reflecting the need for scripting in today's model-based statistics the book pushes you to perform step by step calculations that are usually automated This unique computational approach ensures that you understand enough of the details to make reasonable choices and interpretations in your own modeling work The text presents causal inference and generalized linear multilevel models from a simple Bayesian perspective that builds on information theory and maximum entropy The core material ranges from the basics of regression to advanced multilevel models It also presents measurement error missing data and Gaussian process models for spatial and phylogenetic confounding The second edition emphasizes the directed acyclic graph DAG approach to causal inference integrating DAGs into many examples The new edition also contains new material on the design of prior distributions splines ordered categorical predictors social relations models cross validation importance sampling instrumental variables and Hamiltonian Monte Carlo It ends with an entirely new chapter that goes beyond generalized linear modeling showing how domain specific scientific models can be built into statistical analyses Features Integrates working code into the main text Illustrates concepts through worked data analysis examples Emphasizes understanding assumptions and how assumptions are reflected in code Offers more detailed explanations of the mathematics in optional sections Presents examples of using the dagitty R package to analyze causal graphs Provides the rethinking R package on the author's website and on GitHub

A Gamekeeper's Note-book Owen Jones, Marcus Woodward, 2022-01-17 In A Gamekeeper's Note book Owen Jones and Marcus Woodward compile a distinctive collection that delves into the rich tapestry of countryside management and wildlife conservation through a blend of essays personal reflections and practical advice This anthology transcends mere anecdotal recounting to explore the philosophical and ethical dimensions of gamekeeping The diversity of literary styles from the lyrical to the pragmatic offers readers a multifaceted view of rural life and its complexities The included works illuminate various aspects of the natural world and human interaction with it marking the anthology as a significant contribution to environmental literature The backgrounds of Jones and Woodward both steeped in the traditions and daily realities of gamekeeping provide the collection with an authenticity and depth seldom found in environmental writing Their collective experiences aligned with historical and contemporary debates on conservation and rural management enrich the anthology's exploration of its themes This gathering of perspectives underlines the ongoing dialogue between humans and nature highlighting the shifts in perception and approach towards conservation and rural stewardship over time A Gamekeeper's Note book offers readers an unparalleled opportunity to immerse themselves in the world of gamekeeping through a lens that is both educational and enlightening The anthology's breadth touching on ethical environmental and practical concerns makes it a compelling read for anyone interested in the conservation of wildlife and rural landscapes It encourages a deeper appreciation for the nuances of rural life and the critical role of gamekeepers in maintaining the balance between human needs and the natural world Through this collection Jones and Woodward invite us into a dialogue with the past present and future of the countryside making it a must read for those keen on understanding the complexities of environmental stewardship
