

- Sipho is a librarian, a keeper of histories, stories.
- He reveals the past, he wants his stories to be heard, he wants the truth revealed- about Themba and about his sons death.
- He feels, even in death his brother is still taking from him.
- He raised Thando as his own even though she may be Themba's daughter.
- Sipho is now father to both children.

throughout how the TRC has affected the definition of identity and memory in contemporary South Africa including disavowed memories Hutchison then considers how the SA Mali Timbuktu Manuscript Project and the 2010 South African World Cup opening ceremony attempted to restage the nation in their own ways She investigates how the Voortrekker Monument and Freedom Park embody issues related to memory in contemporary South Africa She also analyses current renegotiations of popular repertoires particularly songs and dances related to the Struggle revivals of classic European and South African protest plays new history plays and specific racial and ethnic histories and identities New Perspectives in Diasporic Experience Connie Rapoo, Maria Luisa Coelho, Zahira Sarwar, 2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2014 Taking a transcultural and interdisciplinary approach to Diaspora studies New Perspectives in Diasporic Experience offers a wide range of new and challenging perspectives on Diaspora and confirms the relevance of this field to the discussion of contemporary forms of identity construction movement settlement membership and collective identification This volume investigates constructions of diasporic identity from a variety of temporal and spatial contexts They explore encounters between diasporic communities and host societies and examine how diasporic experiences can contribute to perpetuating or challenging normalised perceptions of the Other The authors discuss how visual and literary representations become an integral part of diasporic experiences and identities Other themes examined include communities attempts to reverse the negative effects of Diaspora and maintain cultural continuity as well as generational differences and dialogue within the Diaspora and the power that individuals have to negotiate marginal identities in diasporic settings

The Culture of Dissenting Memory Véronique Tadjo, 2019-03-18 This volume deals with the manifold ways in which histories are debated and indeed historicity and historiography themselves are interrogated via the narrative modes of the truth commissions It traces the various medial responses memoirs fiction poetry film art which have emerged in the wake of the truth commissions The 1990s and the 2000s saw a spate of so called truth commissions across the Global South From the inaugural truth commissions in post juntas 1980s Latin America to the Truth and Reconciliation Commission set up by the incoming post apartheid government in South Africa and the twinned gacaca courts and National Unity and Reconciliation Commission in Rwanda and that in indigenous Australia various truth commissions have sought to lay bare human rights abuses The chapters in this volume explore how truth commissions crystallized a long tradition of dissenting and resisting cultures of memorialization in the public sphere across the Global South and provided a significant template for contemporary attempts to work through episodes of violence and oppression across the region Drawing on studies from Latin America Africa Asia and Australia this book illuminates the modes in which societies remember and negotiate with traumatic pasts This book will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of human rights popular culture and art literature media politics and history Political Memory and the Aesthetics of Care Mihaela Mihai, 2022-01-11 With this nuanced and interdisciplinary work political theorist Mihaela Mihai tackles several interrelated questions How do societies remember histories of systemic violence Who is excluded from such histories cast of characters And what are the political costs of selective remembering in the present Building on insights from political theory social epistemology and feminist and critical race theory Mihai argues that a double erasure often structures hegemonic narratives of complex violence of widespread heterogeneous complicity and of impure resistances not easily subsumed to exceptionalist heroic models In dialogue with care ethicists and philosophers of art she then suggests that such narrative reductionism can be disrupted aesthetically through practices of mnemonic care that is through the hermeneutical labor that critical artists deliver thematically and formally within communities space of meaning Empirically the book examines both consecrated and marginalized artists who tackled the memory of Vichy France communist Romania and apartheid South Africa Despite their specificities these contexts present us with an opportunity to analyze similar mnemonic dynamics and to recognize the political impact of dissenting artistic production Crossing disciplinary boundaries the book intervenes in debates over collective responsibility historical injustice and the aesthetics of violence within political theory memory studies social epistemology and transitional justice

Theatre and Human Rights Gary M. English, 2024-08-09 This book develops theoretical intersections between theatre and human rights and provides methodologies to investigate human rights questions from within the perspective of theatre as a complex set of disciplines While human rights research and programming often employ the arts as representations of human rights related violations and abuses this study focuses on dramatic form and structure in addition to content as uniquely positioned to interrogate important questions in human rights theory and practice This project positions theatre as a method of examination in addition to the important purposes the arts serve to raise consciousness that accompany other often considered more primary modes of analysis A main feature of this approach includes emphasis on dialectical structures in drama and human rights and integration of applied theatre and critical ethnography with more traditional theatre This integration will demonstrate how theatre and human rights operates beyond the arts as representation model offering a primary means of analysis activism and political discourse This book will be of great interest to theatre and human rights practitioners and activists scholars and students Literary Legacies of the South African TRC Francesca Mussi, 2020-05-18

Since the 1970s truth and reconciliation commissions have become increasingly popularised as options for addressing historical injustices especially within the context of dictatorial regimes Of the many truth commissions to date the South African TRC has been the one that has captured public attention throughout the world providing a model for subsequent truth commissions The South African TRC has also constituted and still constitutes an intriguing source for writing Literary Legacies of the South African TRC explores the capacities of fiction for providing the TRC and people s testimonies with a productive afterlife for challenging definitions of trauma truth and reconciliation for inviting readers to keep the dialogue about the past open and to think actively about the strategies adopted in addressing that past and their implications in the present It explores these capabilities as evidenced in the work of a wide range of writers some known to international

Anglophone readers including J M Coetzee and Nadine Gordimer some less well known including Afrikaans language novelist Marlene van Niekerk and others from a new generation including Marli Roode Kopano Matlwa and Thando Mgqolozana The book aims to contribute to discourses of trauma truth telling and reconciliation from a literary perspective as well as placing emphasis on the profound interconnection between fiction history and trauma in conflict and post conflict areas such as South Africa
