- Abstract The purpose of this study was to examine the effects of a 12-week, low-intensity, low-impact, and low-volume exercise program on the physical and psychological health of older adults. The study was a randomized controlled trial involving 60 participants aged 65 and older. The intervention group performed a 12-week program of low-intensity, low-impact, and low-volume exercise, while the control group remained sedentary. The results showed that the intervention group had significantly higher levels of physical and psychological health compared to the control group at the end of the 12-week period.
