Easterbrooks,Hannah M. Dostal,2021 The Oxford Handbook of Deaf Studies in Literacy brings together state of the art research on literacy learning among deaf and hard of hearing learners DHH With contributions from experts in the field this volume covers topics such as the importance of language and cognition phonological or orthographic awareness morphosyntactic and vocabulary understanding reading comprehension and classroom engagement written language and learning among challenged populations Avoiding sweeping generalizations about DHH readers that overlook varied experiences this volume takes a nuanced approach providing readers with the research to help DHH students gain competence in reading comprehension Success in the Urban Classroom ,2002 Second Handbook of Research on Mathematics Teaching and Learning Frank K. Lester,2007-02-01 The audience remains much the same as for the 1992 Handbook namely mathematics education researchers and other scholars conducting work in mathematics education This group includes college and university faculty graduate students investigators in research and development centers and staff members at federal state and local agencies that conduct and use research within the discipline of mathematics The intent of the authors of this volume is to provide useful perspectives as well as pertinent information for conducting investigations that are informed by previous work The Handbook should also be a useful textbook for graduate research seminars In addition to the audience mentioned above the present Handbook contains chapters that should be relevant to four other groups teacher educators curriculum developers state and national policy makers and test developers and others involved with assessment Taken as a whole the chapters reflects the mathematics education research community s willingness to accept the challenge of helping the public understand what mathematics education research is all about and what the relevance of their research findings might be for those outside their immediate community

The Oxford Handbook of School Psychology Melissa A. Bray, Thomas J.
