Paris politique son caractère-son histoire-son état actuel A. de RUPEMOND (Viscount.),1873 Proceedings of the Boston Society of Natural History Boston Society of Natural History,1859 The Risky Business of French Feminism Jennifer L. Sweatman,2014-08-26 The Risky Business of French Feminism Publishing Politics and Artistry examines the institutional history of the publishing house Editions des Femmes as well as its relationship to the French Women s Liberation Movement MLF from 1972 to the present The founding and subsequent success of Editions des Femmes in the publishing milieu intensified the ideological divisions within the MLF and highlighted the extent to which that movement failed to adequately reflect on the power inherent in its recourse to print culture as an agent of change In particular Editions des Femmes produced several periodical publications and pioneered a woman centered subculture that attached militant political meanings to the practice of buying and publishing books While the MLF succeeded in changing legislation detrimental to women it was not able to create unified cultural politics or construct a long term media strategy that could preserve the movement s original ideals and unity Jennifer L Sweatman explores the long term dissipation of the MLF as a unified force not only as an outcome of ideological disagreement but also due to conflicting views on culture women s creativity as a strategy for empowerment and the utility of media for creating change As the MLF fragmented unable to fully come to terms with its various consumer identities its need for capital to support creative projects and its difficult experience with collective decision making the Editions des Femmes project was seen as incredibly controversial However Editions des Femmes embodied a broader strategy for cultural transformation that privileged women s creative works rather than feminism situating it as a successful forerunner of the revitalization of the publishing industry from below as small independent houses challenged the large media conglomerate control of the industry “The” foreign quarterly review ,1841 “The” Hamilton Palace Libraries William Beckford,1882 Demonology and Witchcraft Jean-Pierre Coumont,2021-11-01 Extensive bibliography on demonology and witchcraft systematically describing all materials including books monographs conference reports and doctoral dissertations covering these subjects subjects from the 15th century to the 21st century 5000 entries and indices on author subject and anonymous works The Foreign quarterly review [ed. by J.G. Nearly two hundred of those documentaries have been restored by the French Film Archives Jean Pierre Bertin Maghit's Propaganda Documentaries in France 1940-1944 is the first volume specifically devoted to nonfiction propaganda films distributed in France during the dark years of the German Occupation. This book provides a concise overview of Vichy and German film policies including the purchase of an extensive network of movie houses many of which were expropriated from Jewish owners. In addition popular prewar American and French feature films were banned while theaters were flooded with propagandist titles. Bertin Maghit also illustrates how ideological priorities and political negotiations played out in both topical documentaries and weekly newsreels juxtaposing Vichy's integrationist propaganda with German sponsored documentaries of agitation and exclusion. While documentaries are the primary focus of this work the author also addresses other forms of propaganda such as newsreels and posters. Appearing in English for the first time and featuring a filmography of 178 restored works Propaganda Documentaries in France 1940-1944 is a provocative and wide ranging work of history and cinema that will be of interest to film scholars and historians as well as sociologists and political scientists. The Encyclopædia Britannica Hugh Chisholm, 1910 The Historians' History of the World: France, 1815-1904, Netherlands Henry Smith Williams, 1904 , The Statesman's Year-book Frederick Martin, Sir John Scott Keltie, Isaac Parker Anderson Renwick, Mortimer Epstein, Sigfrid Henry Steinberg, John Paxton, Brian Hunter (Librarian), Barry Turner, 1916

Scepticism in the Eighteenth Century: Enlightenment, Lumières, Aufklärung Sébastien Charles, Plínio J. Smith, 2014-07-08. The Age of Enlightenment has often been portrayed as a dogmatic period on account of the veritable worship of reason and progress that characterized Eighteenth Century thinkers. Even today the philosophes are considered to have been completely dominated in their thinking by an optimism that leads to dogmatism and ultimately rationalism. However on closer inspection such a conception seems untenable not only after careful study of the impact of scepticism on numerous intellectual domains in the period but also as a result of a better understanding of the character of the Enlightenment. As Giorgio Tonelli has rightly observed the Enlightenment was indeed the Age of Reason but one of the main tasks assigned to reason in that age was to set its own boundaries. Thus given the growing number of works devoted to the scepticism of Enlightenment thinkers historians of philosophy have become increasingly aware of the role played by scepticism in the Eighteenth Century even in those places once thought to be most given to dogmatism especially Germany. Nevertheless the deficiencies of current studies of Enlightenment scepticism are undeniable. In taking up this question in particular the present volume which is entirely devoted to the scepticism of the Enlightenment in both its historical and geographical dimensions seeks to provide readers with a revaluation of the alleged decline of scepticism. At the same time it attempts to resituate the Pyrrhonian heritage within its larger context and to recapture the fundamental issues at stake. The aim is to construct an alternative conception of Enlightenment philosophy by means of philosophical modernity itself whose initial stages can be found herein. The Cambridge Medieval History: Contest of empire and papacy Henry Melville
