,2022-05-20 At the beginning of the 21st century there is still no generally accepted comprehensive definition of the lyric or differentiated modern toolkit for its analysis The reception of poetry is largely characterised either by an empathetic identification of critics with the lyric persona or by exclusive interest in formal patterning The present volume seeks to remedy this deficit All the contributors theorise the lyric to overcome the impasse of an impressionistic and narrowly formalistic critical debate on the genre Their papers focus on a variety of different questions the problem of establishing a framework for definition and classification the search for dynamic and potent critical approaches investigations of poetry's cultural performance and its fundamental relevance for the construction of group cohesion The essays collected in this volume offer a consciously polyphonic range of theories and interpretations suggesting to the reader a variety of theoretical frameworks and practical illustrations of how a discussion of poetry may be firmly grounded in modern literary theory first major volume as a unit the second reads his dramatic monologue Pictor Ignotus against Romantic acts of mind the third maps distinctively Victorian variations in the major form known as Greater Romantic Lyric and the fourth explores Yeats's mature revision of that form The second group of four chapters Remaking Poets stresses the dynamics of literary influence by which poets turn their forerunners into figures helpful to their own development The first three examine Yeats's encounter with Dante Spenser Browning and Tennyson respectively the fourth treats Pound's remaking of the poet he called his poetic father Browning in a way that suggests the limits of anxiety models of poetic influence For this volume Professor Bornstein has revised and expanded a select group of his recent essays and added a new one on the Greater Victorian Lyric The past both the significance and purpose of Martial's poetry have often been misinterpreted or missed altogether because of the particular literary and social background and context that inform his poetry For example literary histories have given the impression that Martial wrote unobjectionably trivial poems merely to cull favour from patrons they also suggest that he had little to say that was serious In contrast this book argues that Martial with his poetry played a serious and vital role in his community as a social guide or conscience The book's unique approach to Martial's poetry places him within the reactionary tradition of Indo-European blame-praise poetry Poets in this tradition served a vital function for their community in reaction to the perceived deterioration of the behaviour and conditions of their day they either praised ideal behaviour or more commonly ridiculed socially aberrant and destructive behaviour By linking Martial with this particular tradition we are better able to account for understand and appreciate his themes and methods and the effect of his poetry Victorian Poetry: An Anthology Erik Gray, Veronica Alfano, 2025-04-23 The first new anthology of its kind in twenty years Victorian Poetry provides generous selections of poetry both by well known Victorian poets Alfred Tennyson Robert Browning Christina Rossetti and by writers who have received less critical attention Constance Naden Toru Dutt Grace Aguilar Detailed annotations substantial biographies and an introduction outlining major literary and historical trends of the Victorian period ensure that the anthology will be useful both for specialists and for students encountering these poems for the first time A companion website features additional poetry selections of critical prose and four appendices that group together poems related by genre geography or subject
