River Flow 2020 Wim Uijttewaald, Mário J. Franca, Daniel Valero, Victor

Chavarrias, Clàudia Ylla Arbós, Ralph Schielen, Alessandra Crosato, 2020-08-27 Rivers form one of the lifelines in our society by providing essential services such as availability of fresh water navigation energy ecosystem services and flood conveyance Because of this essential role mankind has interfered continuously in order to benefit most and at the same time avoid adverse consequences such as flood risk and droughts This has resulted in often highly engineered rivers with a narrow set of functions In the last decades rivers are increasingly considered in a more holistic manner as a system with a multitude of interdependent processes River research and engineering has therefore added to the river fundamentals also themes like ecohydraulics consequences of climate change and urbanisation River Flow 2020 contains the contributions presented at the 10th conference on Fluvial Hydraulics River Flow 2020 organised under the auspices of the Committee on Fluvial Hydraulics of the International Association for Hydro Environment Engineering and Research IAHR What should have been a lively physical gathering of researchers students and practitioners was converted into an online event as the COVID 19 pandemic hindered international travelling and large gatherings of people Nevertheless the fluvial hydraulics community showed their interest and to be very much alive with a high number of participations for such event Since its first edition in 2002 in Louvain la Neuve this series of conferences has found a large and loyal audience in the river research and engineering community while being also attractive to the new researchers and young professionals This is highlighted by the large number of contributions applying for the Coleman award for young researchers and also by the number of applications and attendants to the Master Classes which are aimed at young researchers and students River Flow 2020 aims to provide an updated overview of the ongoing research in this wide range of topics and contains five major themes which are focus of research in the fluvial environment river fundamentals the digital river the healthy river extreme events and rivers under pressure Other highlights of River Flow 2020 include the substantial number of interdisciplinary subthemes and sessions of special interest The contributions will therefore be of interest to academics in hydraulics hydrology and environmental engineering as well as practitioners that would like to be updated about the newest findings and hot themes in river research and engineering Nature Sir Norman Lockyer,1891 The Mining Journal, Railway and Commercial Gazette ,1902

Tropical Montane Cloud Forests L. A. Bruijnzeel,F. N. Scatena,L. S. Hamilton,2011-01-06 This volume represents a uniquely comprehensive overview of our current knowledge on tropical montane cloud forests 72 chapters cover a wide spectrum of topics including cloud forest distribution climate soils biodiversity hydrological processes hydrochemistry and water quality climate change impacts and cloud forest conservation management and restoration The final chapter presents a major synthesis by some of the world s leading cloud forest researchers which summarizes our current knowledge and considers the sustainability of these forests in an ever changing world This book presents state of the art knowledge concerning cloud forest occurrence and status as well as the biological and hydrological value of these unique forests The presentation is academic but with a firm practical emphasis It will serve as a core reference for academic researchers and students of environmental science and ecology as well as practitioners natural resources management forest conservation and decision makers at local national and international levels Index of Patents Issued from the United States Patent Office United States. Military Aspects of Hydrogeology Edward P. F. Rose,J. D. Mather,2012 This book contains 20 papers from authors in the UK USA Germany and Austria Historically it gives examples of the influence of groundwater on battlefield tactics and fortress construction describes how groundwater was developed for water supply and overcome as an obstacle to military engineering and cross country vehicular movement by both sides in World Wars I and II and culminates with examples of the application of hydrogeology to site boreholes in recent conflicts notably in Afghanistan Examples of current research described include hydrological model development the impact of variations in soil moisture on explosive threat detection and cross country vehicle mobility contamination arising from defence sites and its remediation privatization of water supplies and the equitable allocation of resources derived from an international transboundary aquifer Parameter Estimation and Uncertainty Quantification in Water Resources Modeling Philippe Renard, Frederick Delay, Daniel M. Tartakovsky, Velimir V. Vesselinov, 2020-04-22 Numerical models of flow and transport processes are heavily employed in the fields of surface soil and groundwater hydrology They are used to interpret field observations analyze complex and coupled processes or to support decision making related to large societal issues such as the water energy nexus or sustainable water management and food production Parameter estimation and uncertainty quantification are two key features of modern science based predictions When applied to water resources these tasks must cope with many degrees of freedom and large datasets Both are challenging and require novel theoretical and computational approaches to handle complex models with large number of unknown parameters Farmers and Consumers Market Bulletin , 2011
