Working with indigenous knowledge Fhumulani M. Mulaudzi, Rachel T. Lebeso, 2022 The aim of the book is to assist both local and international scholars in articulating the scholarly discourse on indigenous health attitudes practices and experiences The indigenous lens that was used to generate and disseminate indigenous knowledge in this book will strengthen indigenous scholarship thus making it accessible to a wider audience In addition the information shared in this book will add value for scholars and assist them with the indigenous knowledge needed to address sustainable development goals This book is timeous and topical as the discourse on the decolonisation of the curriculum is widely debated in the higher education space The discourse on the scholarship of indigenous knowledge as the tacit local knowledge that stems from cultural practices within communities has not been well articulated in the current health science education milieu Indigenous knowledge has remained overlooked and undermined for a very long time and the information remains untapped in local communities The scholars who conducted the research on which this book is based unearthed a wealth of knowledge which was tacit in nature and translated it into implicit knowledge that can be documented and shared with other scholars globally This knowledge will assist health care scholars in benefiting from knowledge practices and cultural beliefs that will assist them in health care planning teaching evidence based practice and further research

Indigenous Technology Knowledge Systems Mishack T. Gumbo, P. John Williams, 2023-07-21 There has been a growing interest in indigenous knowledge systems and research This interest has been mainly triggered by the need to decolonize education as a response to the colonial onslaught on indigenous knowledge and people Research has however concentrated on the generality of the indigenous knowledge system rather than on its related dimensions One area that has suffered a lack of attention is indigenous conceptions of science technology engineering and mathematics STEM despite the unquestionable evidence of STEM in indigenous contexts Most STEM is presented by colonial establishments and representations especially in developed modern urban contexts which portray STEM as a colonial construct This book focuses on indigenous technological knowledge systems education ITKSE Indigenous people have been at the front of technological developments from pre colonial times The list of precolonial industries science and technology is extensive including blacksmithing wood carving textile weaving and dyeing leather works beadworks pottery making architecture agricultural breeding metal working salt production gold smithing copper smithing leather crafting soap making bronze casting canoe building brewing glass making and agriculture for example In some parts of the world such as Africa and Australia these technologies still exist ITKSE should not be left to exist outside of the technology education curriculum and classroom as it can benefit both indigenous students who have been denied learning about what is relevant to them and non indigenous students These cultural groups can expand their knowledge of technology by learning both ITKSE and Western technological knowledge systems education WTKSE ITKSE also presents opportunities for technology teachers to reflect on and revisit their depth of technological knowledge pedagogies and assessment The intent of this book is transformational in the sense that it brings decolonial and indigenous perspectives into the technology education context It extends technology education in the sense that it will not only influence Western minded architects artisans designers etc but encourage indigenous mindedness as well

A youth empowerment model designed to tackle school violence in South Africa Fathima Dewan,2024-12-17 School based violence is of major concern in the South African schooling system particularly in secondary schools School based violence has a negative impact on the physical social cognitive and emotional well being of learners and teachers To compound matters family and community environment also play a role in escalating school violence There is a need to develop interventions that are evidence based and developmental in nature to address the issue of reducing school based violence Youth empowerment can be used as a helpful strategy to address the issue of school based violence This scholarly book focuses on using the framework of youth empowerment to address the issue of school based violence Through sound research the author proposes that schools should involve learners in decision making around school policies and design strategies to address school violence to create safer schools and a better school climate The author further posits using key aspects of youth empowerment in school violence campaigns and programmes to increase youth motivation to collectively influence changes within their school through a process of shared decision making collective vision and partnership with young people

Implementing Sustainable Change in Higher Education Brent D. Ruben, 2023-07-03 This book offers formal and informal leaders at all levels of their institution theory informed and practical guidance on implementing and sustaining change through collaborative leadership The framework and concepts presented are applicable at the department program campus or system level to guide minor incremental or transformative change Achieving a shared organizational vision can be a daunting challenge given the multiple missions of higher education varied and often conflicting stakeholder viewpoints siloed organizational structures traditions of shared governance and a highly educated workforce bringing together colleagues with diverse disciplinary perspectives Achieving these aims requires taking into account the organization s systems and values and the needs and aspirations of corresponding stakeholders across the enterprise Ruben provides a guide for achieving and sustaining these goals in an engaged and collaborative manner Employing the author's widely used Excellence in Higher Education EHE framework this book offers principles and practices relative to change collaboration and organizational vision that can greatly enhance the prospects for effective outcomes highlighting three key themes Understanding and leveraging the dynamics of change Leading collaboratively and meaningfully engaging one's colleagues Adopting and pursuing a shared vision of organizational purpose and aspirations The book is intended for faculty and staff who want to advance the effectiveness and impact of their program department and institution and to do so in a way that creates a shared vision to sustain these benefits into the future It serves as a text for the growing number of leadership development programs and for courses with a focus on higher education leadership

Extreme Events in the Developing World Emma Rosa Mary Archer, Katharine Emma Vincent, Andrew John Dougill, Marta Bruno Soares, Chris C. Funk, 2022-11-25 Publishing from the South Sarah Nuttall, Isabel Hofmeyr, 2024-11 In 2022 Wits University Press marked its centenary making it the oldest most established university press in sub-Saharan Africa While in part modelled on scholarly publishers from the global North it has had to contend with the constraints of working under global South conditions marginalisation within the university budgetary limitations small local markets unequal access to international sales channels and the privileging of English language publishing over indigenous languages This volume explores what the Press has achieved and what its modes of reinvention might look like In widening and deepening our understanding of the Press as an example of a global South scholarly publisher this volume asks how publishing can contribute to a broader understanding of Southern knowledge production Featuring contributions from scholars publishers and authors this multi-voiced volume showcases the history of the Press's publishing activities over 100 years from documenting its evolution through book covers and giving credence to some of the leading black intellectuals and writers of the early 20th century and the success of those works in spite of their authors racial marginalisation to the role of women both in publishing and in the spaces afforded to women's writing on the Press's list The collection concludes with essays by contemporary authors who detail not only their experiences of working with Southern publishers but also the politics and influences governing their decisions to choose the Press over a Northern publisher Publishing from the South shows the strategies deployed by the Press to professionalise Southern knowledge making and in the process demonstrating how university presses in the global South support the scholarly missions of their universities for both local and global audiences

Small Town Tourism in South Africa Ronnie Donaldson, 2017-10-14 This book investigates small town tourism development in South Africa taking into account the most common strategies branding promotion festivals and theming The contents of the book resonate with the intersection of the power elite and their impacts on small town tourism Because the book focuses on small town geographies in South Africa the literature on small town tourism in the country is reviewed in Chapter 2 to provide a contextual background Each subsequent chapter begins with an overview of international literature to give the conceptual context of the case studies each chapter explores In Chapter 3 the concept of small town tourism branding is illustrated by an exploration of the Richmond book town In Chapter 4 the branding theme is probed further in an investigation of two winners of the Kw la Town of the Year competition namely Fouriesburg and De Rust Chapter 5 documents the branding of Sedgfield through its proclamation as Africa s first Cittaslow slow town a process driven by the local power elite to the exclusion of town s poor who have no understanding of the intentions of the Cittaslow movement and its potential benefits for the town Chapter 6 is a case study of Greyton s tourism led rural gentrification by which a small town has transformed in three decades to become a sought after place of residence for elite immigrants so making the town a jewel tourism destination while reinforcing racial segregation Because festivals and events creations of the wealthy have made significant financial contributions to small towns Chapter 7 considers festivals and events as strategies to market and brand small towns in a particular way Case studies of the economic impacts of festivals on small towns are assessed and the assessment methodologies used are critiqued Chapter 8 provides a synthesis by drawing on the thesis of the urban growth machine by power elites

Community-based adaptation Hannah Reid, 2017-10-02 Community based adaptation CBA to climate change is based on local priorities needs knowledge and capacities Early CBA initiatives were generally implemented by non government organisations NGOs and operated primarily at the local level Many used bottom up participatory processes to identify the climate change problem and appropriate responses Small localised stand alone initiatives are insufficient to address the scale of challenges climate change will bring however The causes of vulnerability such as market or service access or good governance also often operate beyond the project level Larger organisations and national governments have therefore started to implement broader CBA programmes which provide opportunities to scale up responses and integrate CBA into higher levels of policy and planning This book shows that it is possible for CBA to remain centred on local priorities but not necessarily limited to work implemented at the local level Some chapters address the issue of mainstreaming CBA into government policy and planning processes or into city or sectoral level plans e g on agriculture Others look at how gender and children s issues should be mainstreamed into adaptation planning itself and others describe how tools can be applied and finance delivered for effective mainstreaming This book was published as a special issue of Climate and Development
