The Secure and the Dispossessed Nick Buxton, Ben Hayes, 2015-11-20 While the world's scientists and many of its inhabitants despair at the impact of climate change corporate and military leaders see nothing but opportunities For them melting ice caps mean newly accessible fossil fuels borders to be secured from climate refugees social conflicts to be managed and more failed states in which to intervene They are securing their assets at the expense of the planet and its inhabitants The Secure and the Dispossessed looks at these deadly approaches with a critical eye It also considers the flip side that the legitimacy of the elite is under unprecedented pressure from resistance by communities to resource grabs to those creating new ecological and socially just models for managing our energy food and water Topics covered include geoengineering militarism refugee protection greenwashing and the agricultural crisis among others Adaptation and resilience to a climate changed world is desperately needed but the form it will take will affect all of our futures The Age of Radiance Craig Nelson, 2014-03-25 Radiation is a complex and paradoxical concept staggering amounts of energy flow from seemingly inert rock and that energy is both useful and dangerous While nuclear energy affects our everyday lives from nuclear medicine and food irradiation to microwave technology its invisible rays trigger biological damage birth defects and cellular mayhem From the end of the nineteenth century through the use of the atomic bomb in World War II to the twenty first century's confrontation with the dangers of nuclear power Craig Nelson illuminates a pageant of fascinating historical figures Enrico Fermi Marie and Pierre Curie Albert Einstein FDR Robert Oppenheimer and Ronald Reagan among others He reveals many little known details including how Jewish refugees fleeing Hitler transformed America from a country that created light bulbs and telephones into one that split atoms how the most grotesque weapon ever invented could realize Alfred Nobel's lifelong dream of global peace how emergency workers and low level utility employees fought to contain a runaway nuclear reactor while wondering if they would live or die Brilliantly fascinating and remarkably accessible The Age of Radiance traces mankind's complicated and difficult relationship with the dangerous power it discovered and made part of civilization Coercive Care Bernadette McSherry, Ian Freckelton, 2013-06-26 There has been much debate about mental health law reform and mental capacity legislation in recent years with the UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities also having a major impact on thinking about the issue This edited volume explores the concept of coercive care in relation to individuals such as those with severe mental illnesses those with intellectual and cognitive disabilities and those with substance use problems With a focus on choice and capacity the book explores the impact of and challenges posed by the provision of care in an involuntary environment The contributors to the book look at mental health capacity and vulnerable adults' care as well as the law related to those areas The book is split into four parts which cover human rights and coercive care legal capacity and coercive care the legal coordination of coercive care and coercive care and individuals with cognitive impairments The book covers new ground by exploring issues arising from the coercion of persons with

Unclear Physics Målfrid Braut-Hegghammer, 2016-08-01 Many authoritarian leaders want nuclear weapons but few manage to acquire them Autocrats seeking nuclear weapons fail in different ways and to varying degrees Iraq almost managed it Libya did not come close In Unclear Physics Målfrid Braut Hegghammer compares the two failed nuclear weapons programs showing that state capacity played a crucial role in the trajectory and outcomes of both projects Braut Hegghammer draws on a rich set of new primary sources collected during years of research in archives fieldwork across the Middle East and interviews with scientists and decision makers from both states She gained access to documents and individuals that no other researcher has been able to consult Her book tells the story of the Iraqi and Libyan programs from their origins in the late 1950s and 1960s until their dismantling This book reveals contemporary perspectives from scientists and regime officials on the opportunities and challenges facing each project Many of the findings challenge the conventional wisdom about clandestine weapons programs in closed authoritarian states and their prospects of success or failure Braut Hegghammer suggests that scholars and analysts ought to pay closer attention to how state capacity affects nuclear weapons programs in other authoritarian regimes both in terms of questioning the actual control these leaders have over their nuclear weapons programs and the capability of their scientists to solve complex technical challenges

Transitions to Alternative Vehicles and Fuels

National Research Council, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Board on Energy and Environmental Systems, Committee on Transitions to Alternative Vehicles and Fuels, 2013-04-14

For a century almost all light duty vehicles LDVs have been powered by internal combustion engines operating on petroleum fuels

Energy security concerns about petroleum imports and the effect of greenhouse gas GHG emissions on global climate are driving interest in alternatives

Transitions to Alternative Vehicles and Fuels assesses the potential for reducing petroleum consumption and GHG emissions by 80 percent across the U.S. LDV fleet by 2050 relative to 2005

This report examines the current capability and estimated future performance and costs for each vehicle type and non-petroleum based fuel technology as options that could significantly contribute to these goals

By analyzing scenarios that combine various fuel and vehicle pathways the report also identifies barriers to implementation of these technologies and suggests policies to achieve the desired reductions

Several scenarios are promising but strong and effective policies such as research and development subsidies energy taxes or regulations will be necessary to overcome barriers such as cost and consumer choice
