WHAT TO TURN IN:

Unscrambled table

Questions #1-6

Introduction

The present organization of the elements is a product of the first periodic table published by Dmitri Mendeleev in 1869. The basis of his arrangement was the atomic masses of the elements. This approach proved incorrect as it would have placed some elements in a family with dissimilar properties. Henry Moseley rearranged the table on the basis of the atomic numbers of the elements. In accordance with Moseley's revision, the periodic law states the properties of the elements are periodic functions of their atomic numbers.

Each of the known elements has its own set of properties. These range from solid to gas, lustrous to dull, low to high melting points, various colors, etc. The elements are arranged within the periodic table into groups or families (vertical columns) and periods or rows (horizontal rows). This arrangement reflects the repeating nature of the properties of the elements.

In this experiment, you will use your knowledge of periodic properties and a list of clues to correctly arrange the elements from a scrambled periodic table.

Objectives

- To arrange the elements in Groups IA-VIIIA (1, 2, 13-18) according to a list of clues and your knowledge of periodic properties
- To explain the trends of properties in groups and periods

Equipment: scissors, glue stick, blank table, scrambled table of elements

Procedure

1. Obtain a "scrambled" table. Each block on the table represents a different element from Groups IA-VIIIA, (1-18)
2. Cut out blocks A-Z. Use the clues given at the end of the procedure and arrange the elements in their proper order the blank table provided by your teacher. When you are sure of a correct placement, glue the square in place. Elements A-Z will fill the first four rows.
3. Cut out the remaining 16 blocks (these have a * instead of a code letter). Use the information provided in each block and your knowledge of periodic properties to arrange these elements in their proper position on the blank table. Glue the blocks in place in rows five and six. THESE WILL BE AN EXTRA OPTIONAL GRADE AND WILL NOT AFFECT YOUR LAB SCORE IF YOU GET ANY INCORRECT OR DO NOT DO THEM.
4. Some information is missing from each block. Predict the values for the missing items from the location of the element on the periodic table. Place your predictions on the table. (You may use a periodic table only to determine the symbol for each element.) You must include the element symbol, atomic number, and oxidation number (charge):
