The Last Days of Café Leila Donia Bijan, 2018-04-17 A glorious treat awaits you at the literary table of Donia Bijan Adriana Trigiani Set against the backdrop of Iran's rich turbulent history this exquisite debut novel is a powerful story of food family and a bittersweet homecoming When we first meet Noor she is living in San Francisco missing her beloved father Zed in Iran Now dragging her stubborn teenage daughter Lily with her she returns to Tehran and to Caf Leila the restaurant her family has been running for three generations Iran may have changed but Caf Leila still run by Zed has stayed blessedly the same it is a refuge of laughter and solace for its makeshift family of staff and regulars As Noor revisits her Persian childhood she must rethink who she is a mother a daughter a woman estranged from her marriage and from her life in California And together she and Lily get swept up in the beauty and brutality of Tehran Bijan's vivid layered story at once tender and elegant funny and sad weaves together the complexities of history domesticity and loyalty and best of all transports readers to another culture another time and another emotional landscape

Reading Jhumpa Lahiri Nilanjana Chatterjee, 2022-05-09 This book is an innovative and rigorous study of Jhumpa Lahiri's Indian American female characters lived and imagined diasporic house space using domesticity and the house as an analytical tool to explore their hidden domestic spaces The book explores how the house as a spatial construct shares a symbiotic relationship with its inhabitants and through their implicit and explicit response to various parts of their diasporic house space interprets their maladies limitations and opportunities Indian American diasporic women especially homemakers have long been grappling with issues of socio cultural invisibility as they have no other space to interact with except their houses in the hostland now more than ever during the global corona crisis A reading of this multi layered relationship between houses and their women will help readers understand not only the political intellectual emotional and sexual dispositions of middleclass Indian women in America but also social cultural and economic positions they occupy within the hostland The book shows the represented domestic interstices and looks at them as signifiers of distinct individual trajectories wherein lies embedded the women inhabitants oppositions beneath the acceptance of normative Indian family values in diaspora It also offers elemental insights into ways in which migration acts as an opportunity for establishing new often hybridized identities for which it is important to realise their connections with their house space Presenting an alternative methodology for reading real and imagined lives of women in Indian American diaspora the book proposes an unconventional mode of understanding diasporic realities and representations in cultural studies that is not readily apparent It will be of interest to researchers in the field of South Asian Studies Diaspora Studies Migration Studies Culture Studies Feminist Writings Gender Studies and Asian Literature Foreword by Bill Ashcroft
