NOTES

- 1 When I was in middle school what I wanted most was to fit in. That's all anybody wants in middle school. In middle school, you're suspicious of anyone who stands out for any reason. Derek stood out. We all avoided him.
- 2 My mom had always told us never to make fun of people, so I never did. I can't say the same for my friends. Not that they were outright mean or anything, but they'd whisper behind their hands, and it was obvious who they were whispering about. I took no part in this, as I said, but I have to admit I steered clear of Derek like everyone else.
- 3 Despite my standoffishness, Derek started leaving me little gifts: every couple of days, something new—treasures out of a cereal box or a gum machine would turn up in my locker, in my desk, in the pocket of my jacket. I did not acknowledge these things, and immediately tossed them into the back of my closet when I got home. I guess I could have told my mother, but I didn't. Sometimes you have to figure things out for yourself.
- 4 The weeks passed. I continued to ignore Derek, and made sure to stay out of his way. Still, the presents continued, a different one each time. I resented the fact that he spent so much time thinking up ways to get my attention. Didn't he have better things to do?
- 5 My friends teased me. "Ooooooh, Lila has a boyfriend! Lila has a boyfriend!" they sang out. It didn't seem fair. I'd tried so hard to fit in, to fade into the woodwork, but here I was, being teased, the butt of a joke. The center of attention.
- 6 One day Derek strode up to me in the lunchroom and presented me with a dozen roses—red, long-stemmed, in a fluted paper wrapper with a note tucked inside: I know I'm not the coolest kid/But take these roses/You'll be glad you did.
