Favorite Old Recipes Joseph Leiter, 1927 Colonial Food in Interwar Paris Lauren Janes, 2016-02-25 In the wake of the First World War in which France suffered severe food shortages colonial produce became an increasingly important element of the French diet The colonial lobby seized upon these foodstuffs as powerful symbols of the importance of the colonial project to the life of the French nation But how was colonial food really received by the French public And what does this tell us about the place of empire in French society In Colonial Food in Interwar Paris Lauren Janes disputes the claim that empire was central to French history and identity arguing that the distrust of colonial food reflected a wider disinterest in the empire From Indochinese rice to North African grains and tropical fruit to curry powder this book offers an intriguing and original challenge to current orthodoxy about the centrality of empire to modern France by examining the place of colonial foods in the nation's capital

The Reporter's Kitchen Jane Kramer, 2017-11-21 Jane Kramer started cooking when she started writing Her first dish a tinned tuna curry was assembled on a tiny stove in her graduate student apartment while she pondered her first writing assignment From there whether her travels took her to a tent settlement in the Sahara for an afternoon interview with an old Berber woman toiling over goat stew or to the great London restaurateur and author Yotam Ottolenghi's Notting Hill apartment where they assembled a buttered phylo and cheese tower called a mutabbaq Jane always returned from the field with a new recipe and usually a friend For the first time Jane's beloved food pieces from The New Yorker where she has been a staff writer since 1964 are arranged in one place a collection of definitive chef profiles personal essays and gastronomic history that is at once deeply personal and humane The Reporter's Kitchen follows Jane everywhere and throughout her career from her summer writing retreat in Umbria where Jane and her anthropologist husband host memorable expat Thanksgivings in July to the Nordic coast where Jane and acclaimed Danish chef Rene Redzepi of Noma forage for edible sea grass The Reporter's Kitchen is an important record of culture distilled through food around the world It's welcoming and inevitably surprising
