The Law Times ,1864 Irish Poetry: Politics, History, Negotiation S. Matthews,1997-04-12 The award of the 1995 Nobel Prize for Literature to Seamus Heaney recognized not only the aesthetic achievement of his work but also its political urgency Here Steven Matthews presents a genealogy of Irish poetry which centres upon Heaney s recent preoccupation with the relations between poetry politics and history Writing from the perspective of Irish critical responses to the poetry he discusses a wide range of work from John Hewitt through Heaney himself to Paul Muldoon All of these poets have been inspired directly or indirectly by the situation in the North of Ireland Placing the poems in their historical context the author also analyses how these poets have reacted to the influence of W B Yeats This important book offers a new approach to Irish poetry linking it for the first time to the crucial political and historical events which lie at its centre Chemical News and Journal of Industrial Science ,1907 The Physician and Pharmacist ,1868 Strangers Next Door? Tim Lindsey,Dave

McRae,2018-02-22 There are no two neighbouring countries anywhere in the world that are more different than Indonesia and Australia They differ hugely in religion language culture history geography race economics worldview and population Indonesia 270 million Australia less than 10 per cent of that In fact Indonesia and Australia have almost nothing in common other than the accident of geographic proximity This makes their relationship turbulent volatile and often unpredictable Strangers Next Door brings together insiders and leading observers to critically assess the state of Australia Indonesia relations and their future prospects offering insights into why the relationship is so important for Australia why it is so often in crisis and what this means for the future This book will be of interest to anyone concerned with the Indo Pacific region Southeast Asia Australia and Indonesia and each country s politics economy and foreign policy It contains chapters that will interest specialists but are written in a style accessible to a general audience The book spans a diverse range of subjects including political relations and diplomacy security and defence the economy and trade Islam education development the arts legal cooperation the media women and community ties Contributors assess the current state of relations in their sphere of expertise and outline the factors and policies that could shape bilateral ties and Indonesia s future over the coming decades University of Melbourne scholars Tim Lindsey and Dave McRae both prominent observers and commentators on Indonesia and its relations with Australia edited the volume providing a synthesising overview as well as their own thematic chapters journalists can alter their reporting practices in order to have the opposite effect and promote peace It discusses the nature of press freedom in Indonesia from 1966 onwards considers the relationship between the press and politicians and explores journalistse tm working methods It goes on to outline in detail the communal wars in eastern Indonesia in the period 1999 2000 arguing that communication as much as physical preparations for violence were key to bringing about the wars with journalistse tm rigid professional routines and newswriting conventions causing them to reproduce and enlarge the battle cries of those at war The book concludes by advocating a development communication approach to journalism in transitional settings in order to help journalists to counter the disintegrative tendencies of failing states and the communal strife that can result
