Special Types of Life Cycle Assessment Matthias Finkbeiner, 2016-07-27 This book presents specialised methods and tools built on classical LCA. In the first book length overview their importance for the further growth and application of LCA is demonstrated for some of the most prominent species of this emerging trend: Carbon footprinting, Water footprinting, Eco efficiency assessment, Resource efficiency assessment, Input output and hybrid LCA, Material flow analysis, Organizational LCA. Carbon footprinting was a huge driver for the market expansion of simplified LCA. The discussions led to an ample proliferation of different guidelines and standards including ISO TS 14067 on Carbon Footprint of Product. Atsushi Inaba, Kogakuin University Tokyo, Japan and his eight co authors provide an up to date status of Carbon Footprint of Products. The increasing relevance of Water Footprinting and the diverse methods were the drivers to develop the ISO 14046 as international water footprint standard. Markus Berger, Technische Universität Berlin, Germany; Stephan Pfister, ETH Zurich, Switzerland; and Masaharu Motoshita, Agency of Industrial Science and Technology, Tsukuba, Japan present a status of water resources and demands from a global and regional perspective. A core part is the discussion and comparison of the different water footprint methods, databases and tools. Peter Saling from BASF SE in Ludwigshafen, Germany broadens the perspective towards Eco efficiency Assessment. He describes the BASF specific type of eco efficiency analysis plus adaptations like the so called SEEBALANCE and AgBalance applications. Laura Schneider, Vanessa Bach and Matthias Finkbeiner, Technische Universität Berlin, Germany address multi dimensional LCA perspectives in the form of Resource Efficiency Assessment. Research needs and proposed methodological developments for abiotic resource efficiency assessment and especially for the less developed area of biotic resources are discussed. The fundamentals of Input output and Hybrid LCA are covered by Shinichiro Nakamura, Waseda University Tokyo, Japan and Keisuke Nansai, National Institute for Environmental Studies, Tsukuba, Japan. The concepts of environmentally extended IO, different types of hybrid IO LCA and the waste model are introduced. David Laner and Helmut Rechberger, Vienna University of Technology, Austria present the basic terms and procedures of Material Flow Analysis methodology. The combination of MFA and LCA is discussed as a promising approach for environmental decision support. Julia Martinez Blanco, Technische Universität Berlin, Germany, now at Inditex, Barcelona, Spain; Atsushi Inaba, Kogakuin University Tokyo, Japan and Matthias Finkbeiner, Technische Universität Berlin, Germany introduce a recent development which could develop a new trend, namely the LCA of Organizations.

Sufficiency Thinking Gayle C. Avery, 2020-07-17 Our world is under pressure with growing inequalities in wealth and access to food and clean water. We depend too heavily on polluting fuels and diminishing natural resources. Traditional cultural practices are being swamped by global popular culture. The Thai model of sufficiency thinking aims to transform the mindset of a whole population to achieve the seemingly impossible: enriching everyone's lives in a truly sustainable way. Innovative management practices developed by King Bhumibol Adulyadej of Thailand have been applied across Thailand in agriculture, education, business, government.

and community organisations for over two decades In this book chapters written by eminent Thai scholars explain sufficiency thinking and review its implementation in different sectors including community development business agriculture health care schools and even in prisons Is Thailand unique in having discovered the holy grail of a more responsible form of capitalism No it is not but it is the first country whose government has adopted this kind of thinking as national policy we obviously need to revise dramatically our thinking about the outlines of a just economy and a decent society in which everyone can lead dignified lives Sufficiency Thinking provides creative approaches to this quandary and this important volume is a brilliant addition to the growing literature critical of mainstream business as usual ideology John Komlos Professor Emeritus University of Munich

Social Work and Disasters Margaret Alston, Tricia Hazeleger, Desley Hargreaves, 2019-01-11 Disasters are increasing in frequency and intensity across the world causing significant destruction to individuals and communities Yet many social workers are ill prepared for the demands of this field of practice This book discusses the role of social workers in disaster work including in disaster preparedness during the disaster and in post disaster practice It addresses the complexities of social work disaster practice noting the need for social workers to understand the language of trauma and to respond effectively The authors discuss disaster theory and practice drawing out elements of practice at macro meso and micro levels and at various stages of the disaster They examine the factors that shape vulnerability in disasters and draw out the possibility of post traumatic growth The final section discusses strategies for self care in disaster practice noting the organisational and personal strategies that can be adopted to facilitate the wellbeing of workers in the field With real life case studies from top scholars in the field this book is essential reading for social work practitioners working in the field of disaster practice as well as social work students and academics It will also be useful to other health professionals who wish to understand this field of practice

Green Savings Marilyn A. Brown, Yu Wang, 2015-09-29 This landmark work lauds the benefits of decreased energy consumption investigating its relationship to public policy and analyzing its potential billion dollar benefits to the U S economy U S consumers tend to use energy indiscriminately something they may no longer be able to do with impunity This game changing book asserts that reducing energy consumption should be a frontline strategy to address global climate change threats to energy security and the challenge of grid reliability The book supports two bold arguments that policies motivating greater investment in high energy efficiency should be a priority and that energy efficiency can help the nation in times of crisis To make their case for the necessity of prioritizing demand reduction the authors examine the policies and markets operating in a number of leading cities states and nations across the globe to uncover the keys to their success These examples show how demand side strategies can significantly reduce pollution cut costs and make the electric grid more resilient The authors explain why these technologies are not widely adopted and assess the potential savings they can produce The book will be an eye opener for policymakers energy professionals and the public as it demonstrates how cost effective demand reduction policies can improve air quality strengthen electricity markets and generate jobs
