Care of the Well Newborn Snell, Sandra L. Gardner, 2016-07-19 Care of the Well Newborn is a unique text that focuses on care of the term newborn for the first month of life. Written by distinguished experts in the field, it teaches students and professionals how and what to assess in the care of the non-verbal newborn while also providing criteria for recognizing deviations from normal and strategies for managing complications that arise. The first text of its kind, it provides easily accessible information on evidence-based neonatal care that follows current guidelines, standards, and recommendations. Also explored are physiology and pathophysiology, data collection, differential diagnosis, cultural considerations, and parental education. An ideal resource for both students and professionals, each chapter includes multiple-choice questions, case studies, and activities to facilitate critical thinking and learning.

Digital adaptation kit for postnatal care World Health Organization, 2025-07-19 Digital Adaptation Kits (DAKs) are part of WHO's SMART guidelines initiative. This aims to ensure that the content of WHO's evidence-based guidelines is accurately reflected in the digital systems being used at country level. The DAKs provide software-neutral, operational and structured documentation based on WHO recommendations related to clinical care, health systems, and use of data to systematically and transparently inform the design of digital systems. Standard components of each DAK include: 1. linked health interventions and recommendations; 2. generic personas; 3. user scenarios; 4. generic business processes and workflows; 5. core data elements mapped to standard terminology codes (e.g. the international classification of diseases); 6. decision support; 7. programme indicators; and 8. functional and non-functional requirements. This DAK focuses on PNC and aims to provide a common language across various audiences: maternal, newborn, infant, and child health, and other programme managers, software developers, and implementers of digital systems, to ensure a common understanding of the appropriate health information content within a defined health programme area as a mechanism to catalyse the effective use of these digital systems.
