Weak Interactions And Neutrinos: Proceedings Of The 12th Symposium On Theoretical Physics Jihn E Kim, Sun Kee Kim, 1994-08-31 The major topics in this volume are electroweak physics including LEP physics and radiative corrections CP violation and lepton number nonconservation and neutrino physics and astroparticle physics The latest progress in both the theoretical and the experimental aspects of the topics is discussed

Spin 96 - Proceedings Of The 12th International Symposium On High-energy Spin Physics J E J Oberski, C W De Jager, Tjeerd Ketel, Petrus J Mulders, M Oskam-tamboezer, 1997-04-15 Experiments using highly polarized intense beams and targets and theoretical studies of spin and polarization phenomena are now providing us with numerous additional details of the electroweak and strong interactions and the structure of matter The spin structure of the nucleon has been measured over wide ranges of kinematic variables and the cross sections have been calculated to several orders in perturbative field theory At present the influence of the higher twist contributions the gluon spin and the quark orbital angular momentum are under scrutiny Quantum chromodynamics QCD captures a lot of our experimental knowledge of hard polarized scattering processes Can our understanding of such processes within QCD be further improved Hyperons produced in high energy reactions show how puzzling strong interactions between hadrons still are Spin observables in experiments at intermediate energy are used to test parity and charge symmetries Will they also reveal at low energy a violation of time reversal symmetry We are on the verge of using parity violation measurements at intermediate electron scattering energies to determine the amount of strange quark contributions to the neutral weak form factor of the nucleon The polarization of the sea quarks is expected to be measured soon in W decays produced in high energy polarized proton interactions Will the jets in polarized Z decays show a definite handedness These and many other topics are discussed in these proceedings

Handbook of Accelerator Physics and Engineering Alexander Wu Chao, Karl Hubert Mess, 2013 Edited by internationally recognized authorities in the field this expanded and updated new edition of the bestselling Handbook containing more than 100 new articles is aimed at the design and operation of modern particle accelerators It is intended as a vade mecum for professional engineers and physicists engaged in these subjects With a collection of more than 2000 equations 300 illustrations and 500 graphs and tables here one will find in addition to the common formulae of previous compilations hard to find specialized formulae recipes and material data pooled from the lifetime experience of many of the world's most able practitioners of the art and science of accelerators. The eight chapters include both theoretical and practical matters as well as an extensive glossary of accelerator types. Chapters on beam dynamics and electromagnetic and nuclear interactions deal with linear and nonlinear single particle and collective effects including spin motion, beam environment, beam-beam, beam-electron, beam-ion, and intrabeam interactions. The impedance concept and related calculations are dealt with at length as are the instabilities associated with the various interactions mentioned. A chapter on operational considerations includes discussions on the assessment and correction of orbit and optics errors, real time feedbacks, generation of short photon pulses, bunch compression, tuning of normal and superconducting linacs, energy recovery linacs, free electron lasers, cooling, space charge compensation, brightness of light sources, collider luminosity optimization and collision schemes. Chapters on mechanical and electrical considerations present material data and important aspects of component design including heat transfer and refrigeration. Hardware systems for particle sources, feedback systems, confinement and acceleration, both normal conducting and superconducting, receive detailed treatment in a subsystems chapter. Beam measurement techniques and apparatus being treated therein as well. The closing chapter gives data and methods for radiation protection computations as well as much data on radiation damage to various materials and devices. A detailed name and subject index is provided together with reliable references to the literature where the most detailed information available on all subjects treated can be found.
