Physiologie Du Basbleu

Janis Bergman-Carton

Physiologie Du Basbleu:

Physiologie Du Bas-bleu Frédéric Soulié, 1840 Écrire au XIXe siècle Lucette Czyba, 1998 Reclaiming Female Agency Norma Broude, Mary D. Garrard, 2005-04-11 Reclaiming Feminine Agency identifies female agency as a central theme of recent feminist scholarship offers 23 essays on artists issues from the Renaissance to the present written in the 1990s after Physiologie du bas-bleu ... Vignettes de Jules Vernier Melchior Frédéric SOULIÉ, 1850 The Woman of Ideas in French Art, 1830-1848 Janis Bergman-Carton, 1995-01-01 Women in 19th century French art were represented as victims of a harsh urban working class life This book offers the argument that this representation obscured the model woman of ideas a prominent figure in the narratives of French national and sexual politics Genius Envy Adrianna M. Paliyenko, 2017-01-03 In Genius Envy Adrianna M Paliyenko uncovers a forgotten history the multiplicity and diversity of nineteenth century French women s poetic voices Conservative critics of the time attributed the phenomenon of genius to masculinity and dismissed the work of female authors as feminine literature Despite the efforts of leading thinkers critics and literary historians to erase women from the pages of literary history Paliyenko shows how these female poets invigorated the debate about the origins of genius and garnered considerable recognition in their time for their creativity and bold aesthetic ideas This fresh account of French women poets contributions to literature probes the history of their critical reception The result is an encounter with the texts of celebrated writers such as Marceline Desbordes Valmore Ana s S galas Malvina Blanchecotte Louisa Siefert and Louise Ackermann Glimpses at the different stages of each poet s career show that these women explicitly challenged the notion of genius as gender specific thus advocating for their rightful place in the canon A prodigious contribution to studies of nineteenth century French poetry Paliyenko s book reexamines the reception of poetry by women within and beyond its original context This balanced and comprehensive treatment of their work uncovers the multiple ways in which women poets sought to define their place in history Women Writing Antiquity Helena Taylor, 2024-04-15 Women Writing Antiquity argues that the struggle to define the female intellectual in seventeenth century France lay at the centre of a broader struggle over the definition of literature and literary knowledge during a time of significant cultural change As the female intellectual became a figure of debate France was also undergoing a shift away from the dominance of classical cultural models the transition towards a standardized modern language the development of a national literature and literary canon and the emergence of the literary field This book explores the intersection of these phenomena analyzing how a range of women constructed the female intellectual through their reception of Greco Roman culture Women Writing Antiquity offers readings of known and less familiar works from a diverse corpus of translators novelists poets linguists playwrights essayists and fairy tale writers including Marie de Gournay Madeleine de Scud ry Madame de Villeglé Antoinette Deshouli res Marie Jeanne L H ritier and Anne Dacier Challenging traditionally formalist and source text orientated approaches the study reframes classical reception in terms of authorial self fashioning and professional strategy and explores the symbolic value of Latin literacy to an author's projected identity. These writers used reception of Greco Roman culture to negotiate the value attributed to different genres, the nature of poetics, the legitimacy of varied modes of authorship, the qualities and properties of French and even how and by whom these topics might be debated.

Women Writing Antiquity combines a new take on the literary history of the period with a retelling of the history of the figure of the learned woman.

Apartment Stories Sharon Marcus, 1999. Apartment Stories works from the brilliant premise that urban culture and domestic architecture are indeed related in a number of unpredictable and mutually enlightening ways. Marcus's readings of Balzac and Zola novels in the context of the new urban architecture are absolutely superb and she remains subtle and unexpected at every step.

Bruce Robbins author of Feeling Global.

Mastering the Marketplace Anne O'Neil-Henry, 2017. Mastering the Marketplace examines the origins of modern mass media culture through developments in the new literary marketplace of nineteenth century France and how literature itself reveals the broader social and material conditions in which it is produced. Anne O'Neil-Henry examines how French authors of the nineteenth century navigated the growing publishing and marketing industry as well as the dramatic rise in literacy rates, libraries, reading rooms, literary journals, political newspapers and the advent of the serial novel. O'Neil-Henry places the work of canonical author Honoré de Balzac alongside then popular writers such as Paul de Kock and Eugène Sue, acknowledging the importance of low authors in the wider literary tradition. By reading literary texts alongside associated advertisements, book reviews, publication histories, sales tactics and promotional tools, O'Neil-Henry presents a nuanced picture of the relationship between high and low literature, one in which critics and authors alike grappled with the common problem of commercial versus cultural capital. Through new literary readings and original archival research from holdings in the United States and France, O'Neil-Henry revises existing understandings of a crucial moment in the development of industrialized culture. In the process, she discloses links between this formative period and our own in which mobile electronic devices, internet-based bookstores and massive publishing conglomerates alter once again the way literature is written, sold and read.
