espionage and the use of secrecy in politics in the contemporary age It successfully argues that the 19th century saw the development of a cultural historical process in which disruptive novelties like the disguise the secret and the double identity simultaneously assailed the spheres of the state the self and the imaginary ushering in distinctive features of society in the modern era in the process This global phenomenon in which state and society but also reality and fiction were profoundly intertwined is therefore investigated by means of a transdisciplinary analysis that considers both the politico institutional and the cultural planes that existed at the time
