Roman Spaces Essays Around An Empire:

Roman Spaces Eric S. Morse, 2014-11-28 It has been fashionable to view the Classical past as a thing dead and frozen scarcely accessible and certainly of no relevance to current international affairs It has also been fashionable to over sensationalize the past and to draw conclusions that are hard to justify in the light of the available evidence The essays in this book explore aspects of Roman Imperial history and try to define some of the experiences that we and our remote historic ancestors may have in common

The Conquest of Ruins Julia Hell, 2019-03-19 The Roman Empire has been a source of inspiration and a model for imitation for Western empires practically since the moment Rome fell Yet as Julia Hell shows in The Conquest of Ruins what has had the strongest grip on aspiring imperial imaginations isn't that empire's glory but its fall and the haunting monuments left in its wake Hell examines centuries of European empire building from Charles V in the sixteenth century and Napoleon's campaigns of the late seventeenth and early eighteenth centuries to the atrocities of Mussolini and the Third Reich in the 1930s and 40s and sees a similar fascination with recreating the Roman past in the contemporary image In every case particularly that of the Nazi regime the ruins of Rome seem to represent a mystery to be solved how could an empire so powerful be brought so low Hell argues that this fascination with the ruins of greatness expresses a need on the part of would be conquerors to find something to ward off a similar demise for their particular empire of western architecture and its forms and motifs remain significant elements of our own built environments Roman Architecture places the varied architecture of ancient Rome from its humble apartment blocks to its grand public structures within the broader context of Roman society It takes as its starting point the writings of the Roman architect Vitruvius as one voice in a broader contemporary debate about the nature and value of architecture What did the Romans themselves think architecture was for What was built by whom and why How was architecture represented in text and image The interplay of type and variation that are the hallmark Roman architecture are here traced back to the human actions and choices from which they originated Janet DeLaine explores how the desires of patrons for novelty and individuality were met by architects and builders working within the practical constraints of available materials and the moral prescriptions of religious and social norms to create new forms Ranging from early Rome to the late empire this volume casts new light on many familiar monuments of the city of Rome but also on less well known examples from across the empire Through an examination of the key types of buildings at the heart of Roman society and their decoration it reveals the symbolic meaning of architecture in terms of competitive power displays and commemoration and it explores how architecture helped to define being Roman at different times and in different places of the empire Negotiating Cultural Identity Himanshu Prabha Ray, 2017-09-19 This volume breaks new ground by conceptualizing landscape as a dynamic cultural complex in which the natural world and human practice are inextricably linked and are constantly interacting It examines the social and cultural construction of space in the early medieval period in South Asia as manifest in society religious architecture and as shaped through trade and economic transactions British Representations of the Middle East in the Exhibition Space, 1850-1932 Holly O'Farrell, 2023-11-10 This volume analyses British exhibitions of Middle Eastern particularly ancient Egyptian and Persian artefacts during the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries examining how these exhibitions defined British self image in response to the Middle Eastern other This study is an original interpretation of the exhibition space along intersectional constructionist lines revealing how forces such as gender race morality and space come together to provide an argument for British supremacy The position of museums as instruments of representation of display made them important points of contact between the British national imperialist scheme and the public Displays in the British Museum Victoria and Albert Museum and Burlington House provide a focus for analysis Through the employment of a constructionist lens the research outlines a complex relationship between British society and the Middle Eastern artefacts presented in museums during the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries This allows a dialogue to emerge which has consequences for both societies which is achieved through intersections of gender race and morality in space This book will be of value to students and scholars alike interested in museology cultural studies history and art history HISTORICAL ESSAYS EDWARD A FREEMAN, 1896

Latin West, 200 BC to AD 300 Gareth Sears,Peter Keegan,Ray Laurence,2013-07-18 This volume explores the creation of written spaces through the accretion of monumental inscriptions and non official graffiti in the Latin speaking West between c 200 BC and AD 300 The shift to an epigraphic culture demonstrates new mentalities regarding the use of language the relationship between local elites and the population and between local elites and the imperial power The creation of both official and non official inscriptions is one of the most recognisable facets of the Roman city The chapters of this book consider why urban populations created these written spaces and how these spaces in turn affected those urban civilisations They also examine how these inscriptions interacted to create written spaces that could inculcate a sense of Roman ness into urban populations whilst also acting as a means of differentiating communities from each other The volume includes new approaches to the study of political entities social institutions graffiti and painting and the differing trajectories of written spaces in the cities of Roman Africa Italy Spain and Gaul Public Space in the Late Antique City (2 vols.) Luke
