contested area Is it the responsibility of the state The churches The extended family Organised charities or informal community groups The Fabric of Welfare is about the many points of contact between voluntary welfare and government social services and the complex pattern woven by these different threads The country's welfare history is shaped by its colonial past with the predominantly British influences transmitted by an immigrant society in the nineteenth century by its Maori population with a strong communal ethos by the shaping forces of the welfare state by two world wars and economic depression and by both free market policies and rapid social change in recent years In tracing the interdependence of state and voluntary provision of welfare from 1840 to 2005 Margaret Tennant offers new perspectives on New Zealand social history This is a rigorous analysis but it is also a history illuminated by people The text is illustrated with stories about the people who were moved to save to reform to care to support and the people who needed that essential sustenance From the nun who sees a distraught woman about to throw her child into the sea and sets out to care for foundlings to city missionaries community minded public servants businessmen philanthropists and the entrepreneurial organisers of floral fetes and telethons these accounts tell us much about the history of welfare in all its interconnections Reaching the examines several widely held assumptions regarding the necessity of a military force for Aotearoa New Zealand. In doing so it demonstrates that these assumptions often rest on shaky foundations or evidence. Moreover, the book explores alternative non-violent strategies for national defence and international peace promotion, offering a fresh perspective on global security in the twenty-first century.

Official Year-book, 1928 Index of NLM Serial Titles National Library of Medicine (U.S.), A keyword listing of serial titles currently received by the National Library of Medicine Abolishing the Military Griffin Leonard, Joseph Llewellyn, Richard Jackson, 2023-11-01 In an era of escalating global conflicts this book challenges the conventional belief that nation states need military forces to ensure their security and contribute to international peace As academic discourse on non violent methods of national defence and global peace promotion gains momentum there is growing evidence supporting the viability of such policy approaches Far from being a matter of solely academic concern this debate parallels increasing public awareness that militaries are struggling to deal effectively with and may actually exacerbate contemporary threats and challenges such as terrorism climate change and inequality Abolishing the Military Arguments and Alternatives critically

Crisis and Disaster in Japan and New Zealand Susan Bouterey, Lawrence E. Marceau, 2018-08-14. This collection examines a broad spectrum of natural and human-made disasters that have occurred in Japan and New Zealand, including WWII and the atomic bombing of Japan, and two recent major earthquake events: the Great East Japan Earthquake and the Christchurch Earthquake, which occurred in 2011. Through these studies, the book provides important insights into the events themselves and their tragic effects, but most significantly, a multidisciplinary take on the different cultural responses to disaster, changing memories of disasters over time, the impacts of disaster on different societies, and the challenges post-disaster in reviving communities and traditional cultural practices. Bringing in humanities and social science perspectives to disaster studies, this collection offers a significant contribution to disaster studies.
