describes how agriculture has been restructured in the post apartheid era through a delegation of authority from white landowners to black intermediaries He explains that while this labour regime enables the profitability of plantations it gives rise to a fragile moral economy in which perceptions of what is tolerable and what is exploitation frequently clash In this environment transactional sex and Christian worship emerge as important terrains of gendered and spiritual contestation where women and low ranking workers remain resilient in the face of unequal power relations Meanwhile plantations project an appearance of benevolent paternalism particularly in the narratives and self identity of white landowners This book reveals how in the everyday life of the community both the plantation and the compound where the workers live serve as central grounds for the negotiation of labour relations A groundbreaking study that uncovers how migrant plantation workers challenge their exploitation Chiefs of the Plantation is a rare glimpse into the often hidden world of labour struggle on contemporary plantations Encyclopedia of Consumption and Waste Carl A.
