

The background of the book cover is a photograph of a mountain landscape. In the foreground, a river flows over dark, jagged rocks. The middle ground shows a dense forest of evergreen trees. In the upper right, a small wooden cabin with a glowing yellow light inside is visible, partially obscured by the trees. The sky is a mix of blue and white, suggesting a cloudy day.

Brainstorm Eric Maisel, PhD, Ann Maisel, 2010-09-24 It s true a mind is a terrible thing to waste Yet that s what we do when we spend our weekend and neurons reliving a workplace squabble spend a family visit chewing over childhood issues or spend hours beating ourselves up when someone brings one of our own long held but never worked on ideas to fruition This kind of obsessing gets us like a hamster on a wheel nowhere But as noted creativity expert Eric Maisel asserts obsessing productively leads to fulfillment rather than frustration A productive obsession whether an idea for a novel a business or a vaccine is chosen deliberately and pursued with determination In this provocative practical guide Maisel coaches you to use the tendency to obsess to your creative advantage fulfilling both your promise and your promises to yourself Mapping British Women Writers' Urban Imaginaries Arina Cirstea,2016-01-13 This study provides an alternative to the postmodern tradition of writing about the city by exploring spatialized constructions of gender and spiritual identity through an integrative framework based on insights from Bachelard's topoanalysis psychoanalysis feminist cultural theory and comparative literature and religion Pursued by Furies Gordon Bowker,2015-03-12 Malcolm Lowry was the troubled author of Under the Volcano 1947 a brilliant novel about the last day of an alcoholic former British consul on the Mexican Day of the Dead the manuscript of which Lowry rescued from the flames when his fisherman's shack burned down in 1944 Lowry's other books were not always so lucky his first novel Ulamarine 1930 was stolen after four years composition and resurrected from a carbon copy another manuscript In Ballast to the White Sea was destroyed in the 1944 fire An early draft of In Ballast was discovered this century and published in 2014 Lowry's life like his work was often lost to chaos Gordon Bowker's 1994 biography is a masterful account of a life spent adrift Language, Society, and the State Gareth Price,2019-06-17 Using Taiwan as a case study this book constructs an innovative theory of a political sociology of language Through documentary and ethnographic data and a comparative historical method the book illustrates how language mediates interactions between society and the state and becomes politicized as a result how language politics and power are intertwined processes and how these processes are not isolated in institutions but socially embedded History of World Dress and Fashion, Second Edition Daniel Delis Hill,2022-01-13 The History of World Dress and Fashion presents a comprehensive survey of dress from around the world including China Japan India Africa the Islamic Empire and the Ancient Americas This extensive study features descriptions and analysis of men's women's and children's clothing accessories and cultural styles from prehistory into the twenty-first century Lavishly illustrated in color throughout it features more than 1600 images and is a valuable resource for fashion designers theater costumers textile researchers costume collectors and curators and anyone interested in clothing and style customs of the world Contradiction Days JoAnna Novak,2023-07-25 For readers of Rachel Cusk and Maggie Nelson the rapturous memoir of a soon-to-be mother whose obsession with the reclusive painter Agnes Martin threatens to upend her life Five months pregnant and struggling with a creative block JoAnna Novak becomes obsessed with the enigmatic abstract expressionist painter Agnes Martin She is drawn to the contradictions in Martin's life as well as her art the soft and exacting brushstrokes she employs for grid-like compositions that are both rigid and dreamy But what most calls to JoAnna is Martin's dedication to her work in the face of paranoid schizophrenia Uneasy with the changes her pregnant body is undergoing JoAnna relapses into damaging old habits and thought patterns When she confides in her doctor that she's struggling with depression and suicidal ideation he tells her she must stop being so selfish given she has a baby on the way and start taking antidepressants Appalled by his patronizing tone and disregard of her mental health history JoAnna instead turns to Martin for guidance adopting the artist's doctrine of joyful solitude and isolation JoAnna heads to Taos where Martin lived for decades and gives herself three weeks to model her hermetic existence phone off email off no talking to her husband no touching the dog Out of a deep solitary engagement with a remarkable artist's body of work emerges an entirely new way for JoAnna to relate to the contradictions of her own body and face up to the joys and challenges of impending motherhood

Travel and Translation in the Early Modern Period Carmine Di Biase, 2006 The relationship between travel and translation might seem obvious at first but to study it in earnest is to discover that it is at once intriguing and elusive Of course travelers translate in order to make sense of their new surroundings sometimes they must translate in order to put food on the table The relationship between these two human compulsions however goes much deeper than this What gets translated it seems is not merely the written or the spoken word but the very identity of the traveler These seventeen essays which treat not only such well known figures as Martin Luther Erasmus Shakespeare and Milton but also such lesser known figures as Konrad Grunenberg Leo Africanus and Garcilaso de la Vega constitute the first survey of how this relationship manifests itself in the early modern period

The Importance of Reinventing Oscar, 2021-11-01 The present collection of essays is the outcome of the Oscar Wilde conference held at the Technical University of Dresden 31 August 3 September 2000 The papers cover a wide range of historical and comparative aspects they look into the status of Wilde as poet dramatist essayist and intellectual during his own times as well as investigate the meaning of his work for subsequent writers and critics thus giving an outline of the Wildean history of literary reception intellectual discourse and media transformation Intellectually brilliant and challenging Oscar Wilde had been a favourite of the late Victorians performing the roles of the dandy and the poet of art for art's sake However due to his questioning of prevalent moral double standards and his insistence on the autonomy of art he was indicted for gross indecencies convicted and sent to prison Instead of being ostracised he became a source of inspiration for writers and artists on the British isles as well as on the European continent The papers in this volume explore such topics as Wilde's concepts of socialism and aestheticism his fashioning of the femme fatale and of the dandy his use of fashion and of simulation his impact on modernism and postmodernism as well as on genres such as crime writing and fictional biography and the influence of Wilde on writers such as James Joyce W B Yeats Joe Orton Peter Ackroyd Tom Stoppard David Hare and Mark Ravenhill Other papers focus on the reception of Wilde in Russia former Yugoslavia Hungary and Germany as well as on cinematic and Internet representations of Wilde Critical and creative responses vary from the general to the specific from traditional assessments to analyses of the arts of camp parody and pastiche thus indicative of the sub cultural appropriation of Saint Oscar Terry Eagleton

Modern China and the West Hsiao-yen PENG, Isabelle Rabut, 2014-04-30 In Modern China and the West Translation and Cultural Mediation the authors investigate the significant role translation plays in the act of cultural mediation They pay attention to transnational organizations that bring about cross cultural interactions as well as regulating authorities in the form of both nation states and ideologies which dictate what and even how to translate Under such circumstances is there room for individual translators or mediators to exercise their free will To what extent are they allowed to do so The authors see translation as a shaping force While intending to shape or reshape certain concepts through the translating act translators and cultural actors need to negotiate among multifarious institutional powers that coexist including traditional and foreign Contributors include Fran oise Kreissler Angel Pino Shan Te hsing Nicolai Volland Joyce C H Liu Huang Ko wu Isabelle Rabut Xiaomei Chen Zhang Yinde Peng Hsiao yen Sebastian Hsien hao Liao and Pin chia Feng Travels, Researches and Missionary Labours During an Eighteen Years' Residence in Eastern Africa Rev. Discovering Imperialism Richard B. Day, Daniel Gaido, 2011-11-25 This volume assembles the main documents of the international debate on imperialism that took place in the Second International during the period 1898-1916 It assesses the contributions of the individual participants placing them in the context of contemporary political debates Justus Von Liebig William H. Brock, 2002-06-20 One of the founding fathers of organic chemistry and also a great teacher the German scientist Justus von Liebig transformed scientific education medical practice and agriculture in Great Britain William H Brock's fresh interpretation of Liebig's stormy career shows how he moved chemistry into the sociopolitical marketplace demonstrating its significance for society in food production nutrition and public health Through his controversial ideas on artificial fertilizers and recycling his theory of disease and his stimulating suggestions concerning food and nutrition he warned the world of the dangers of failing to recycle sewage or to replace soil nutrients Liebig also played the role of an elder statesman of European science by commenting via popular lectures and expansions of his readable Chemical Letters on such issues as scientific methodology and materialism London and the Culture of Homosexuality, 1885-1914 Matt Cook, 2003 London and the Culture of Homosexuality explores the relationship between London and male homosexuality from the criminalisation of all acts of gross indecency between men in 1885 to the outbreak of the First World War in 1914 years marked by an intensification in concern about male male relationships and also by the emergence of an embryonic homosexual rights movement Taking his cue from literary and lesbian and gay scholars urban historians and cultural geographers Matt Cook combines discussion of London's homosexual subculture and various major and minor scandals with a detailed examination of representations in the press in science and in literature The conjunction of approaches used in this study provides fresh insights into the development of ideas about the modern homosexual and into the many different ways of comprehending and taking part in London's culture of homosexuality Fictions of Loss in the Victorian Fin de Siècle Stephen Arata, 1996-08-29 It has been widely recognised that British culture in the 1880s and 1890s was marked by a sense of irretrievable decline Fictions of Loss in the Victorian Fin de Siècle explores the ways in which that perception of loss was cast into narrative into archetypal stories which sought to account for the culture's troubles and perhaps assuage its anxieties Stephen Arata pays close attention to fin de siècle representation of three forms of decline national biological and aesthetic and reveals how late Victorian degeneration theory was used to explain such decline By examining a wide range of writers from Kipling to Wilde from Symonds to Conan Doyle and Stoker Arata shows how the nation's twin obsessions with decadence and imperialism became intertwined in the thought of the period His account offers new insights for students and scholars of the fin de siècle

Argentina Noir Cynthia Schmidt-Cruz, 2019-02-14 Argentina Noir offers a guide to Argentine crime fiction with a focus on works published since the year 2000 It argues that the novela negra or crime novel has become the favored genre for many writers to address the social malaise brought about by changes linked to globalization and market driven economic policies Cynthia Schmidt Cruz presents close readings and original interpretations of eleven novels all set in or around Buenos Aires and explores the ways these texts adapt major motifs figures and literary techniques in Hispanic crime fiction in order to give voice to wide ranging social critiques Schmidt Cruz addresses such topics as organized crime and institutional complicity corruption during the presidency of Carlos Menem 1989 1999 terrorist attacks on Jewish institutions in Buenos Aires and the mysterious death of Alberto Nisman and the winners and the losers of neoliberal structural changes With a solid underpinning in sociological studies and criticism of the genre and its historical context Argentina Noir reveals how these novels are renovating the genre to engage pressing issues confronting not only Argentina but also countries throughout Latin America and around the globe
