

$$\text{Ratio} = \frac{\text{Number of teachers}}{\text{Number of learners}} = \frac{40}{160}$$

This fraction can be simplified by dividing both the numerator and the denominator by 40:

$$\frac{40}{160} = \frac{1}{4}$$

Henderson, 2015-03-19 African Realism explains Africa's international conflicts of the post colonial era through international relations theory. It looks at the relationship between Africa's domestic and international conflicts as well as the impact of factors such as domestic legitimacy, trade and regional economic institutions on African wars. Further, it examines the relevance of traditional realist assumptions, e.g. balance of power, the security dilemma to African international wars and how these factors are modified by the exigencies of Africa's domestic institutions such as neopatrimonialism and inverted legitimacy. This study also addresses the inconsistencies and inaccuracies of international relations theory as it engages African international relations and especially its military history.

Fostering Innovation for Agriculture 4.0 Miguel Angel Rapela, 2019-10-31 The scientific and technical development of any kind of germplasm is regulated by a vast network of treaties, conventions, international agreements and national and regional legislation. These regulations govern biotechnological innovations in plants and microorganisms, access to and use of plant genetic resources and biosafety. This complex mix has made it difficult to arrive at global interpretations due to overlaps, gaps, ambiguities, contradictions and lack of consistency. The big picture is even more complex as a series of scientific developments, gene editing in particular, have in some cases rendered these international regulatory frameworks obsolete. This book puts forward an innovative approach: a Comprehensive Plant Germplasm System. The System is a cooperative game theory based proposal for a binding international convention which would supersede all other conventions, treaties, national and regional legislation covering native varieties and traditional developments, heterogeneous plant varieties, microorganisms, biotechnological inventions, plant genetic resources and biosafety regulation. In short, it offers a comprehensive framework regarding intellectual property, biosafety and business regulation and covers all types of germplasm. If applied, the system is expected to yield higher productivity rates in crops and improved food biodiversity as well as a new paradigm based on the promotion of innovation for Agriculture 4.0.

Perspectives on Student Affairs in South Africa Speckman, McGlory, Mandew, Martin, 2014-07-17 The goal of Perspectives on Student Affairs in South Africa is to generate interest in student affairs in South Africa. The papers contained herein are based on best practice, local experience and well researched international and local theories. The papers in this book deal with matters pertaining to international and national trends in student affairs, academic development, access and retention, counseling and material support for students coming from disadvantaged backgrounds. They are linked to national and international developments as described in the first two papers. This publication will assist both young and experienced practitioners as they grow into their task of developing the students entrusted to them. All contributors are South Africans with a great deal of experience in student affairs and all are committed to the advancement of student affairs in South Africa. The editors are former heads of student affairs portfolios at two leading South African universities.
