

Police Report

Case Number: 010147858

Date: 13 August 2013

Reporting Officer: Deputy Jones

Prepared By: CPL Stevens

Incident Type: Robbery

Address of Occurrence: 557 Maple Street, Manchester, NH 03104

Witnesses:

Alan Perez: Store owner. Male, 43, Latino

Michael Tully: Employee. Male, 21, African American

Andrea Chao: Customer. Female, 27, Asian American

Evidence:

Closed-circuit surveillance footage

Fingerprints (taken from counter)

Footprint (size 10 Nike Air, found in drying paint)

Weapon/Objects Used: Pistol/Firearm

On August 13, 2013, at approximately 17:38, two unidentified males entered a 7-Eleven convenience store and stole $232 from the register at gunpoint. The store's security camera recorded the incident as one man pointed a handgun at store owner Alan Perez while the other man gestured threateningly while demanding that Perez give him the money from the register. "Two guys came in with masks and a gun," Perez said in his witness statement, "and one started yelling at us to give him the money." Perez was running the store with the help of Michael Tully, his employee. Tully described the suspects as middle-aged, white, both wearing leather jackets, jeans, and ski masks. The only customer in the store was Andrea Chao, who heard the robbery taking place but did not see it as she was in the store restroom at the time.

Police Style Report Writing:

Report Writing for Crime Scene Investigators Laura Pazarena, Michael Kessler, Amy Watroba, 2022-06-29 Report Writing for Crime Scene Investigators provides students with the tools to write effective crime scene reports. Students looking to break into the field of crime scene investigations often take courses in report writing but the textbooks available are commonly geared toward general law enforcement and first responders. However, none of the books on the market focus on the craft of effective informative writing with graphic crime scene specific considerations in mind. While falling under law enforcement's purview, crime scene investigations fall within the forensic science field and as such the reporting required is more technical and often more scientific in nature than the average police report. Due to the lack of published resources and guidance in this critical area, there is no standard that currently exists for vital function within crime scene and investigative circles and often the subject is given short shrift. This creates wide discrepancies among what students are being taught. This book is the first of its kind to provide students and those professionals and agencies in need of a blueprint with a resource to teach them the various types of reports and how to refer to scenarios and specific types of evidence to ensure that the report holds up under the process of an investigation and for use within the courts. Key features: Outlines the key distinctions between police style reports and crime scene style reports and writing. Explains how to clearly and accurately provide an accounting and description of a variety of evidence recovered from a scene. Details how to best organize the report in a logical manner and sequence including the various components of the crime scene report. Presents an explanation of the information that should be included in the report and the rationale behind its importance for testimonial purposes. Report Writing for Crime Scene Investigators provides to the reader the fundamentals of effective report writing for the active field Crime Scene Investigator. Coverage includes the necessary steps to thoroughly document scenes and evidence from the time the CSI receives the call until the time the CSI testifies in court. In addition to the student market, the book will be a welcome resource for professional crime scene investigators, attorneys, and as a reference and standard for professional training programs.

Report Writing for Criminal Justice Professionals Larry S. Miller, John T. Whitehead, 2010-11-24 So much of the process of criminal justice depends on good documentation and criminal justice professionals can spend as much as 50-75% of their time writing up administrative and research reports. Much of the legal process depends on the careful documentation that records crucial information. And yet most of these law enforcement, security, corrections, and probation and parole officers have not had adequate training in how to provide a well-written, accurate, brief, and complete report. Report Writing for Criminal Justice Professionals provides practical advice on report writing with specific writing samples and guidelines. The authors go beyond the routine English grammar approach to deal with the difficult but often ignored problem of documentation that will hold up in court. Important concepts are emphasized with related checklists, forms, and pull-out chapter tests. The material is organized into three sections: The Nature of Report Writing, The Mechanics of Report

Writing and The Modernization of Report Writing NEW TO THIS EDITION Updated and revised with new material on forensics and scientific reports crime reporting common errors in forensic reports and automation of report writing Appendixes are thoroughly revised with new examples of reporting forms worksheets and reports including a sample forensic lab report and presentence investigation report Text complemented by numerous examples sample reports and tools Each chapter concludes with a sample test for the reader to self evaluate learning Appendices include model reports examples of agency instructions for completing report forms and selected readings

The Complete Idiot's Guide to Forensics, 2nd Edition Alan Axelrod, PhD,Guy Antinozzi, J.D.,2007-09-04 Get a clue about the most vital components of criminal investigation This new edition offers the most up do date scientific investigation methods used by today s law enforcement agencies including criminal profiling lie detector technology and DNA analyses with an emphasis on forensic pathology anthropology and psychology Guy Antinozzi is a veteran police officer and detective who teaches in the field Focuses on the use of forensics in criminal investigations instead of academic and theoretical criminology

Painless Police Report Writing Barbara Frazee,Joseph N. Davis,2009 With an emphasis on relevance this book tailors English instruction to the needs of police training and law enforcement Taking a building block approach the first five chapters present English grammar and the last two chapters are devoted to the police report writing process Each chapter includes practice and review exercises that are taken from the field and assignment material that is geared to law enforcement interests This edition features sample reports sample forms and war stories that help students see how grammar and writing skills are used in their profession

Official Gazette Philippines,2007 Student Manual United States. Office of Civil Defense,1965 The Suspect's Statement Martha Komter,2019-04-25 What suspects tell the police may become a crucial piece of evidence when the case comes to court But what happens to the suspect s statement when it is written down by the police Based on a unique set of data from over fifteen years worth of research Martha Komter examines the trajectory of the suspect s statement from the police interrogation through to the trial She shows how the suspect s statement is elicited and written down in the police report how this police report both represents and differs from the original talk in the interrogation and how it is quoted and referred to in court The analyses cover interactions in multiple settings with documents that link one interaction to the next providing insights into the interactional and documentary foundations of the criminal process and more generally into the construction character and uses of documents in institutional settings
