

Pediatric Fellowship Personal Statement

There is something magical in the act of gently bending slightly and extending your arms to swoop up and rock a child. During medical course work, I realized that such moments of joy could be part of my daily routine in my medical practice. Knowing the difficulties medicine often brings, I wanted to infuse my work with the exuberance that came only in working with children.

Having a special bond with your patients and their families and watching them grow from energetic toddler to rambunctious adolescent to mature teenager considering college, you see the passage of life before your eyes, knowing you are playing an important role in theirs. Beyond the long-term relationships and the intriguing challenges, it is the field of medicine that brings out the best in me, completely engaged with what I do. Whether dealing with a bad case of influenza, German measles or even hookworm disease, I would have the confidence to arrive at the exact diagnosis and treatment plan, because I had given my all to learn and because I so valued my patients' trust.

A doctor is often defined by the cases that will always linger. A 5-year-old boy was brought to the emergency department, his mother said he had received a puncture wound 3 days prior, but didn't seek medical attention. Our team cleaned the wound and wanted to administer tetanus toxoid to the patient, however, his mother refused to consent to the procedure. Her argument was that previous vaccines were at the cause of the child's delayed speech. We did all we could to persuade her, but she insisted on taking him home. A few days later, he was brought into the ER with muscle spasms that could not be controlled. Despite all the care, he later died as a result of excessive muscle damage. That day I fully understood the magnitude of the meaning of the loss of one of my patients and became twice as resolved to do my best to ensure that happened as infrequently as humanly possible.

With a firm purpose learn all so that no child will unnecessarily suffer or worse, I apply to your fellowship program. If accepted, I would acquire the tools and skills to realize every facet of the career I have sought, virtually, my entire life.
