PRACTICUM WEEK : 1

DATE: 1ST FEBRUARY 2015 – 5TH FEBRUARY 2015

TITLE: FIRST WEEK IN SCHOOL, TIME MANAGEMENT and THE TEACHING OF
'DUNIA SAINS dan TEKNOLOGI'

1. PROBLEM

Alhamdulillah, my first week of practicum in SK _____ had been quite a different experience compared to my previous schools. The environment in urban school such as in my new school, SK _____ was completely different from my previous experience in rural schools. The school headmaster and staffs however had been very helpful and welcoming during our first day and throughout the whole week. We had been introduced properly to the pupils during our first morning assembly and it had helped me and my friend a lot in interacting with the school community afterwards.

As for the lesson I conducted in my classroom, I was still unable to properly conduct my lesson within the time limit as allocated in the lesson plan. Given that I was still not used to the level of the pupils in my classroom, I tend to sometimes underestimate or overestimate the ability of my pupils which affect the kind of activity I gave them in the classroom. More often than not, each activity exceeds the time limit that I have set especially during practice stage. Aside from that, I also encountered problem in trying to figure out the proper way to teach science concept and scientific skills to my pupils. Since this was also my first time in teaching my pupils the 'Dunia Sains dan Teknologi' subject, I was overwhelmed by the differences in the teaching of DST and English especially in terms of approach and lesson planning. It was completely different and given my lack of knowledge and experience in the subject, I was worried that I might even mislead my pupils during the lesson.

Language Education Christine Pearson Casanave, 2011-02-04 Journal writing is not new journals have been around for centuries More recently journals have been viewed as a means of scaffolding reflective teaching and encouraging reflectivity in research processes As a result some educators may ask What more do we need to know Those likely to raise this question are probably not thinking of the explosive growth of reflective writing enabled by social networking on the Web the blogs and other interactive e vehicles for reflection on experiences in our literate real and virtual lives This revisiting of journal writing from a 21st century perspective informed by relevant earlier literature is what Christine Pearson Casanave guides readers through in this first book length treatment of the use of journal writing in the contexts of language learning pre and in service teaching and research Casanave has put together existing ideas that haven t been put together before and has done it not as an edited collection but as a single authored book She has done it in a way that will be especially accessible to teachers in language teacher education programs and to practicing teachers and researchers of writing in both second and foreign language settings and in a way that will inspire all of us to think about not just do journal writing Those who have never attempted to use journals in their classes and own lives as well as others who have used it with mixed results will probably be tempted to try it in at least some of the venues Casanave provides guidance for Those already committed to journal writing will very likely find in this book new reasons for expanding and enhancing their use of journals The American Monthly Microscopical Journal Romyrn Hitchcock, Henry Leslie Osborn, Charles Wesley Smiley, 1888

Chicago Schools Journal , 1918 Developing Reflective TESOL Practitioners Through Teacher Education Andrzej Cirocki, Mark Wyatt, Xuesong (Andy) Gao, 2024-06-26 This textbook provides insights from Asian contexts into how reflective practice is nurtured on Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages TESOL and English Language Teaching ELT teacher education programmes There is increasing recognition worldwide that given the centrality of reflective practice to teachers ongoing professional development supporting teachers to become reflective practitioners should be integral to teacher education programmes Consequently tertiary level courses in areas such as TESOL and ELT tend to promote reflective practice supported by theoretical input from the burgeoning literature on reflection much of which is produced in the West Relatively under represented in the literature are global perspectives on reflective practice there are consequently relatively few accounts as to how reflective practice is embedded in teacher education programmes in different parts of the world including Asia Hence this book addresses a gap Contributing authors from fourteen countries provide insights into the ways in which teachers are helped to grow as reflective practitioners on their teacher education programmes in their unique contexts This textbook showcases how reflective teaching practices are developed supported by frameworks for critical reflection and in interaction with local educational policies These distinctive accounts aid readers in reflecting on the ways in which reflective practice is supported in their own teacher education contexts and in considering ways of enhancing the reflective dimension of their programmes This textbook showcases innovative reflective activities and can be used as a

Wasser,2021-08-16 I just cannot write or I am not a good writer are familiar complaints from students in academia Many of them claim they cannot express themselves clearly in written text and their lack of this skill impedes them in their academic career In this book Nancy A Wasser argues that teachers can help solve this when they start viewing writing not as secondary to reading but as the equally important side of the same coin Those who cannot read will not be able to write Wasser explains how teaching and regular practicing of writing skills from an early age onwards helps children grow into students who are self aware of their voices By employing narrative as a process of learning to write and a way to read teachers can teach children the art of writing while also making children more aware of their own constructions of narrative Combining the focus on individual and group expression in writing lessons students can trace and reflect on their own life transformations through their writing process Good writers are not born that way but made through effort and practice Changes in curriculum may not only lead to better expressed citizens but also to more balance between teacher and children voices Journal of Health, Physical Education, Recreation ,1950 Pennsylvania School Journal ,1929 Developing Certain Designs For Promoting Reflective Learning Practices At Secondary Level Dr Asha O S, Journal of the American Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation ,1950 Reflective Practice for Renewing Schools Jennifer York-Barr,William A.
