P. Robinson, Susan J. Rackstraw, 2025-05-09 In the early 1970s the problem of arousing and maintaining the curiosity of children had been a recurrent theme in reports concerned with the development of new school curricula However before these ideas could be translated into soundly based practical measures an increased understanding of what is involved in the activities of questioning and answering was needed Originally published in 1972 the research reported in these two volumes presents a theoretical framework for describing linguistic features of a range of verbally expressed answers and their associated questions Basil Bernstein s theory is used to generate a number of predictions about the variety and quality of answers that mothers and children are likely to offer to wh questions The usefulness of the scheme is tested against the answering behaviour of members of different social classes and in the main Bernstein s predictions are supported The validity of the categories in the classificatory scheme is explored more fully in later chapters by means of a correlational analysis of the answers of seven year old children Volumes sold separately Multiple-Choice Non-Verbal Reasoning Pack Nfer Nelson, 2006-07 11 Practice Papers prepare children for the secondary school selection tests This pack focuses on the Multiple choice tests and mirrors the real tests in both format and level Contains practice tests for focused preparation Identifies areas of weakness and strength Includes detailed parental notes Advances in Nonverbal Communication Fernando Poyatos, 1992-01-01 This volume on nonverbal communication studies the most multi and interdisciplinary contribution to this field in almost twenty years offers numerous suggestions for further research in many hitherto unexplored areas The twenty contributions include the most recent theoretical and empirical crosscultural studies of gestures from historical communicative and sociopsychological perspectives In addition the volume presents novel psychological and clinical studies of nonverbal behaviors in connection with for instance aphasia and children s experience of artificial limbs A whole section is devoted to nonverbal communication in literature and literary translation and a discussion of art and literature which opens new avenues for literary analysis and a better understanding of reading as a recreational experience A unique feature is a discussion of Nonverbal Communication Studies as an academic area including
