North West Final Examination Question Paper Business Studies 2014:

Regionalism in Africa Daniel C Bach, 2015-12-22 Africa which was not long ago discarded as a hopeless and irrelevant region has become a new frontier for global trade investment and the conduct of international relations This book surveys the socio economic intellectual and security related dimensions of African regionalisms since the turn of the 20th century It argues that the continent deserves to be considered as a crucible for conceptualizing and contextualizing the ongoing influence of colonial policies the emergence of specific integration and security cultures the spread of cross border regionalisation processes at the expense of region building the interplay between territory space and trans state networks and the intrinsic ambivalence of global frontier narratives This is emphasized through the identification of distinctive threads of regionalism which by focusing on genealogies trajectories and ideals transcend the binary divide between old and new regionalisms In doing so the book opens new perspectives not only on Africa in international relations but also Africa's own international relations This text will be of key interest to students and scholars of African politics African history regionalism comparative regionalism and more broadly to international political economy international relations and global and regional governance

Accelerated Land Reform, Mining, Growth, Unemployment and Inequality in South Africa Nombulelo Gumata, Eliphas Ndou, 2020-01-03 The overarching goal of South Africa's National Development Plan NDP is to eliminate poverty reduce inequality lower unemployment and increase the labour participation This book contributes to academic and policy efforts to achieve these NDP goals We establish that the coal metal ores and the platinum group commodity sectors will underpin the mining as a sunrise industry The export led growth strategy is necessary for intensive employment creation but must be complemented by other micro macroeconomic and industrial policies A strategy of minerals beneficiation is important for intensive employment creation Accelerated land reform is a supply side or structural reform policy intervention tool aimed at increasing potential output changing ownership patterns in the economy increasing entrepreneurship labour absorption economic inclusion and lowering income inequality Evidence shows that the balance sheet channel commodity price booms and busts are intricately linked with the exchange rate dynamics policy uncertainty confidence and the effects of droughts also symptoms of climate change Productivity and investment growth shocks matter for output employment and price stability Evidence indicates that nominal GDP growth above 10 percent and keeping inflation within the target band leads to significant increase in employment and decline in unemployment without inflationary pressures especially when inflation is below 4.5 percent To operationalise the NDP targets align and co ordinate policies the South African Reserve Bank SARB mandate can be expanded to include maximum employment This must be complemented by lowering the inflation target band adjusting the financial regulatory macro prudential and monetary policy frameworks This will enhance the conduct and credibility of monetary and financial stability policies to achieve the set objectives These objectives make policy co ordination pertinent and binding years the United Kingdom has become a more and more divided society with inequality between the regions as marked as it has ever been In a landmark analysis of the current state of Britain s regional development Philip McCann utilises current statistics examines historical trends and makes pertinent international comparisons to assess the state of the nation The UK Regional National Economic Problem brings attention to the highly centralised top down governance structure that the UK deploys and demonstrates that it is less than ideally placed to rectify these inequalities The North South divide in the UK has never been greater and the rising inequalities are evident in almost all aspects of the economy including productivity incomes employment status and wealth Whilst the traditional economic dominance of London and its hinterland has continued along with relative resilience in the South West of England and Scotland in contrast the Midlands the North of England Northern Ireland and Wales lag behind by most measures of prosperity This inequality is greatly limiting national economic performance and the fact that Britain has a below average standard of living by European and OECD terms has been ignored The UK s economic and governance inequality is unlikely to be fundamentally rebalanced by the current governance and connectivity trends although this definitive study suggests that some areas of improvement are possible if they are well implemented This pivotal analysis is essential reading for postgraduate students in economics and urban studies as well as researchers and policy makers in local and central government

Energy Security and Natural Gas Markets in Europe Tim

Boersma, 2015-08-27 Moving beyond most conventional thinking about energy security in Europe which revolves around stability of supplies and the reliability of suppliers this book presents the history of European policy making regarding energy resources including recent controversies about shale gas and fracking Using the United States as a benchmark the author tests the hypothesis that EU energy security is at risk primarily because of a lack of market integration and cooperation between member states This lack of integration still prohibits natural gas to flow freely throughout the continent which makes parts of Europe vulnerable in case of supply disruptions The book demonstrates that the EU gas market has been developing at different speeds leaving the Northwest of the continent reasonably well integrated with sufficient trade and liquidity and different supplies whereas other parts are less developed In these parts of Europe there is a structural lack of investments in infrastructure interconnectors reverse flow options and storage facilities Thus even though substantial progress has been made in parts of the EU single source dependency often prevails leaving the relevant member states vulnerable to market power abuse Detailed comparisons are made of the situations in the Netherlands and Poland and of energy policy in the USA The book dismantles some of the existing assumptions about the concept of energy security and touches upon the level of rhetoric that features in most energy security and policy debates in Europe

The Routledge International Handbook of Rural Criminology Joseph F Donnermeyer, 2016-04-28 49% of the world's population lives in small towns villages and farms yet until recent years criminological scholarship has focused almost exclusively on urban crimes The Routledge International Handbook of Rural Criminology is the first major publication to bring together this growing body of scholarship under a single cover For many years rural criminology has remained marginalized and often excluded from the mainstream with precedence given to urban criminology this volume intends to address that imbalance Pioneering in scope this book brings together leading international scholars from fourteen different countries to offer an authoritative synthesis of theoretical and empirical literature This handbook is divided into seven parts each addressing a different aspect of rural criminology Rurality and crime Criminological dimensions of food and agriculture Violence and rurality Drug use production and trafficking in the rural context Intersections between rural and green criminology Policing justice and rurality Teaching rural criminology Edited by a world renowned scholar of rural criminology this book explores rural crime issues in over thirty five countries including Japan Sweden Brazil Australia Tanzania the US and the UK This is the first Handbook dedicated to rural criminology and is an essential resource for criminologists sociologists and social geographers engaged with rural studies and crime

Rules on Paper, Rules in Practice Edouard Al-Dahdah, Cristina Corduneanu-Huci, Gael Raballand, Myriam Ababsa, Ernest Sergenti, Anya Vodopyanov, 2016-07-25 The primary focus of this book is on a specific outcome of the rule of law the practical enforcement of laws and policies and the determinants of this enforcement or lack thereof Are there significant and persistent differences in implementation across countries Why are some laws and policies more systematically enforced than others Are good laws likely to be enacted and if not what stands in the way We answer these questions using a theoretical framework and detailed empirical data and illustrate with case studies from Morocco Tunisia and Jordan We believe that the best way to understand the variation in the drafting and implementation of laws and policies is to examine the interests and incentives of those responsible for these tasks policymakers and bureaucrats If laws and their enforcement offer concrete benefits to these ruling elites they are more likely to be systematically enforced If they don't implementation is selective discretionary if not nil Our first contribution is in extending the application of the concept of the rule of law beyond its traditional focus on specific organizations like the courts and the police to economic sectors such as customs taxation and land inheritance in a search for a direct causal relationship with economic development outcomes Instead of limiting ourselves to a particular type of organization or a legalistic approach to the rule of law we present a broader theory of how laws are made and implemented across different types of sectors and organizations Our second contribution is in demonstrating how powerful interests affect implementation outcomes The incentives elites have to build and support rule of law institutions derive from the distribution of power in society which is partly a historical given The point we make is that it is not deterministic Realigning the incentive structures for reform among key actors and organizations through accountability and competition can dramatically improve the chances that rule of law institutions will take root On the other hand building the capacity of organizations without first changing institutional incentives is likely to lead to perverse outcomes

Fractivism Sara Ann Wylie, 2018-01-25 From flammable tap water and sick livestock to the recent onset of hundreds of earthquakes in Oklahoma the impact of fracking in the United States is far reaching and deeply felt In Fractivism Sara Ann Wylie traces the history of fracking and the ways scientists and everyday people are coming together to hold accountable an industry that has managed to evade regulation Beginning her story in Colorado Wylie shows how nonprofits landowners and community organizers are creating novel digital platforms and databases to track unconventional oil and gas well development and document fracking's environmental and human health impacts These platforms model alternative approaches for academic and grassroots engagement with the government and the fossil fuel industry A call to action Fractivism outlines a way forward for not just the fifteen million Americans who live within a mile of an unconventional oil or gas well but for the planet as a whole

It analyses various aspects of housing including spatial and temporal requirements and needs as well as the challenges of implementing housing projects such as financial feasibility of estate development projects and housing design. Finally, it discusses the socio-economic and environmental impacts of the rapid urban housing development in South Asia. Written by experts from various disciplines, the book presents several case studies that address issues such as housing provision, legislative financial and technical support, access to employment opportunities and markets, the cumulative impact on gentrification, exclusion and spatial equity, and the economic, social and environmental sustainability of urban tissue. Researchers, housing planners and policy makers will find this book a valuable resource in meeting the demand for affordable and sustainable housing and overcoming housing shortages in developing countries Icarus Brian Brivati, 2021-07-20 In 2017 Arif Naqvi and The Abraaj Group were on the brink of changing the world of private equity. Abraaj was a pioneer of impact investing; it had helped transform communities and companies across the world by financing healthcare, education and clean energy projects, and it was about to close a new fund worth 6 billion. But then it all came crashing down. On 10 April 2019, after landing at London Heathrow, Naqvi was arrested on fraud charges. He is facing extradition to the United States and a prison sentence of up to 291 years if he is found guilty. The dominant media narrative has painted Naqvi as a thief and fraudster, the key man in an organised criminal conspiracy. But in this explosive book, which is based on extensive research and interviews, Brian Brivati investigates how things are not quite what they seem. Icarus explores how Abraaj found itself caught in the middle of a geopolitical war between the United States and China, and when it would not back down, economic hitmen tried to wipe it out.

International Aid and Sustainable Development in North Korea Sojin Lim, 2023-06-22 This book examines international aid in North Korea, in particular the ongoing policy of withholding aid, through the lens of the impact on the general population, to present an argument for sustainable development. Focusing on the human rights of North Koreans and presenting a case for the use of aid as a provision for social change, it explores an alternative narrative to the existing long drawn-out rhetoric of denuclearisation. First, the book's scope includes evaluations of the causes of international sanctions and their impact, the Kim regime's mitigation of sanctions through marketisation and a digital economy, as well as barriers to aid, monitoring and the reason for the absence of any mass anti-regime movement. It also posits that North Korea is a fragile state but cloaked by the image of a strong regime. The book succinctly demonstrates that the key to unlocking the potential of North Korea's cloaked society does not lie in sanctions but is to be found in engagement with development aid. As such, it will appeal to students of Korean Studies, Development Studies, Asian Politics and International Relations.
