model which argues that companies have to serve the interests of their current and future stakeholders Accordingly companies move from simply maximising financial value to optimising integrated value which combines financial social and environmental value Applying this new paradigm of integrated value is the truly innovative feature of this textbook Written for undergraduate and graduate students of Finance Economics and Business Administration this textbook provides a fresh analysis of corporate finance Combining theory empirical data and examples from actual companies it reveals the sustainability challenges for corporate investment and shows how finance can be used to steer funds to sustainable companies and projects and thus accelerate the transition to a sustainable economy Discontinuous Innovation:

Learning To Manage The Unexpected Peter Augsdorfer, John Bessant, Kathrin Moslein, Bettina Von Stamm, Frank T Piller, 2013-08-28 This book is based on the findings issues and questions related to an ongoing decade old research project named the Innovation Lab www.innovationlab.org The research project focuses on discontinuous innovation in more than thirteen countries most of which are European and provides useful insights into its different challenges It also raises several questions related to the subject some of which are how do firms pick up weak signals on emerging and possibly radically different innovation What should firms do when these weak signals hit their mainstream process What are the criteria for allocating resources to a strategic innovation project What actions should firms take to avoid being left out by the corporate immune system How should firms organize projects that often break existing rules and require new rules to be created This book attempts to provide answers to the above mentioned questions by gathering information from the research project and also from firms that have tried exploring various ideas models and insights to tackle discontinuous innovation Written in a simple and accessible manner this book will be of interest to both practitioners and academics alike Africa 2.0 Russell Southwood, 2022-07-12 Africa wired up provides an important history of how two technologies mobile calling and internet were made available to millions of Sub Saharan Africans and the impact they have had on their lives The book deals with the political challenges of liberalization and privatization that needed to be in place to get these technologies built It analyses how the mobile phone fundamentally changed communications in Sub Saharan Africa and the ways Africans have made these technologies part of their lives It examines critically the technologies impact on development practices and the key role development actors played in accelerating things like regulatory reform fibre roll out and mobile money The book considers how corruption in the industry is a prism through which patronage relationships in Government can be understood The arrival of a start up ecosystem has the potential to break these relationships and offer a new wave of investment opportunities The author seeks to go beyond the hype to make a provisional assessment of the kinds of changes that have happened over three decades It examines how and why these technologies became transformative and seem to have opened out a very different future for Sub Saharan Africa Africa's Lions Haroon Bhorat, Finn Tarp, 2016-11-08 Examining the economic forces that will shape Africa's future Africa's Lions examines the economic growth experiences of six fast growing and or economically dominant African countries Expert African researchers offer unique perspectives into the challenges and issues in Ethiopia Ghana Kenya Mozambique Nigeria and South Africa Despite a growing body of research on African economies very little has focused on the relationship between economic growth and employment outcomes at the detailed country level A lack of empirical data has deprived policymakers of a robust evidence base on which to make informed decisions By harnessing country level household firm and national accounts data together with existing analytical country research the authors have attempted to bridge this gap The growth of the global working age population to 2030 will be driven primarily by Africa which means that the relationship between growth and employment should be understood within the context of each country s projected demographic challenge and the associated implications for employment growth A better understanding of the structure of each country s workforce and the resulting implications for human capital development the vulnerably employed and the working poor will be critical to informing the development policy agenda As a group the six countries profiled in Africa s Lions will largely shape the continent s future Each country chapter focuses on the complex interactions between economic growth and employment outcomes within the individual Africa s Lions context
