

Features of Non-chronological Reports

Sub-headings

Each main paragraph has a sub-heading. These tell the reader what each paragraph is about.

Heading

A non-chronological report needs a large, eye-catching heading so that the reader knows what the report is about.

Images

Non-chronological reports can include images such as photographs, illustrations or labelled diagrams to show pictures of the subject.

Paragraphs

Non-chronological reports are organised into paragraphs. Each paragraph focuses on a different aspect of the subject being discussed. Many non-chronological reports have an introductory paragraph that introduces the subject and gives some basic facts about the topic.

Technical vocabulary

Sometimes, more specialised vocabulary is used in reports – words and phrases that are specific to the subject that is being written about.

Formal language

Another feature of non-chronological reports is factual, formal language. The purpose of this type of report is to give facts, not opinions.

Captions

A caption is a short sentence or phrase which describes or explains the image it is written underneath.

Fact box & bullet points

Lots of non-chronological reports have boxes with interesting facts, which are organised into a bullet-pointed list. This makes it quick and easy for the reader to read.

Present tense

Non-chronological reports are usually written in the present tense (unless they are about something that has happened in the past).
