It examines the issues surrounding the professional development of English language teachers in India at the tertiary level from multiple perspectives. Further, it evaluates various models of continuing professional learning CPL and emphasizes the transformative model as a solution to the social administrative or other impediments teachers encounter in their lives. Importantly, it presents examples solving academic and non-academic problems in formal and informal and face-to-face and technology-mediated forms of teaching and learning by teachers of English in different contexts. It discusses the latest developments in the literature related to the transformative and reflective approach to classroom problems faced by teachers on the ground such as classroom environment, students' socio-economic background, teachers' education and teacher assessment. Also, it positions continuing professional development CPD as having transformative power in teaching English in India and how it can improve students' learning opportunities. The book is relevant to English language teachers, teacher educators and researchers in India and across the globe to address significant issues in the field, how to handle every classroom situation and how to train oneself as a teacher as well as a teacher educator.

"Sit and Get" Won't Grow Dendrites Marcia L. Tate, 2004-07-15 While very similar in content, tone, organization and style to Worksheets Don't Grow Dendrites, this book will be aimed at staff developers. Marcia L. Tate draws on adult learning theory and brain research to present 20 strategies for staff developers to use in their presentations. She will retain the user-friendly and popular format from Worksheets. What defines the strategy? Why? Research rationale. How? Sample presentation activities and Reflection: how can I use this strategy?      Teacher Professional Learning Shu-Shing Lee, Bee Leng Chua, Alexius Chia, Monica Woei Ling Ong, Pamela Costes-Onishi, 2025-05-29 This book provides an insider's perspective of the Singapore education system that views teacher capacity building as a key lever for quality educational experiences. It describes experiences from policy conceptualisation to practice implementations of teacher learning. This book includes international perspectives in the form of expert commentaries and critique where comparisons are made between Singapore's experiences and those of other education systems. It also describes the complexities of teacher professional learning within and across three levels: policies, partnerships and schools that shape policy to practice implementations of teacher professional learning from pre-service to in-service teachers. Together with the international scholars, this book shares the lessons learnt in Singapore to encourage policy makers, scholars and schools to continue thinking about how teacher professional learning can be enhanced, caution against the direct transfer of practices and describe how teacher capacity building lays the foundation for the education system to stay relevant, address challenges and meet students' needs.
