Lessons Learned: A life in education

Brian Lightman,2018-05-17 Drawing on 38 years of experience Brian

Lightman s perceptive and thoughtful book is a reflective account of his career looking at the development of the education system both from his perspective as a teacher and school leader and more recently as one involved in national policy Major themes include the disruptive impact of the electoral cycle that has consistently led to a failure for developments to be properly embedded and a visceral criticism of what the author sees as a highly polarised and divided education service in the Michael Gove era The final section makes the case for a radical change to the culture that pervades our education service

The Lost Girls: Why a feminist revolution in education benefits everyone Charlotte Woolley, 2020-03-20 Life for girls is a battle of contrasting expectations being told you should be empowered but also be a good girl putting others first but still striving for perfection yourself This conflict internalizing expectations of an impossible standard has led to an explosion in mental health and anxiety related disorders in young women The traditional narrative of education feeds the perception that girls are good They achieve work hard are co-operative They achieve better grades But where do these high achievers disappear to They aren't becoming CEOs politicians or social leaders Women are still disproportionately the family carers and domestic managers This book explores research around biological difference and how our schools encode gendered expectations how our curricula can provide role models as well as modes of thinking valuing traditionally feminine traits as equal to masculine using psychological approaches to develop girls independence how school systems and leadership can model approaches to encourage all students to create a gender balanced environment With practical questions and suggestions at the end of each chapter this book is a guide to the research and a tool to help teachers and leaders shape a genuinely empowering school experience for young women
