Now What? Andrea Shaw, 1996-04-09 This revolutionary reference offers viewers a variety of ways to hone in on the right choice for an evening's entertainment. Going beyond the broad categories Action Comedy Drama etc found in most guides, this book features small groups of films arranged according to specific categories as historical swashbucklers screwball comedies and Busby Berkeley musicals. Shaw eschews the standard star rating system to focus on more telling criteria.

Small-Town Bachelor Jill Kemerer, 2015-04-01 A Place to Call Home: When Reed Hamilton arrives in Lake Endwell for a family wedding, he expects to do his part as best man, then head back to the big city. Dedicated to her family and her dream job at the zoo, Claire is all about roots. She's this city slicker's opposite yet, as they help the town rebuild, Reed is captivated by her stunning looks and caring ways. Carrington, 2021-06-10 My blunder puts the local pastor at risk of losing his job. The least I can do is help clean up the mess by marrying him. Still single at 50, I'm in shock that a dropped batch of lemon bars leads to a marriage proposal. Which is great, and all, except for the fact that it's for show. I'm a plump, middle-aged woman with a talent for cooking and baking, not anyone's idea of a wife. But Mad Dog needs me to marry him to suppress a scandal. Maybe now I can figure out how he got that nickname. My life won't change much. He'll live in my guest room, and I'll feed him delicious food and yummy desserts. And maybe do his laundry. But then, shortly after the wedding, he asks me out on a date. What have I gotten myself into? So

You Want to Be a Film Or TV Screenwriter? Amy Dunkleberger, 2007-02-01 Describes the elements of screenwriting, presents examples of the three-act structure, and the nontraditional form; discusses writing for television and describes the working environment and salary of screenwriters. Searching for New Frontiers Rick Worland, 2018-04-30

Searching For New Frontiers offers film students and general readers a survey of popular movies of the 1960s. The author explores the most important modes of filmmaking in times that were at once hopeful, exhilarating, and daunting. The text combines discussion of American social and political history and Hollywood industry changes with analysis of some of the era's most expressive movies. The book covers significant genres and evolving thematic trends, highlighting a variety of movies that confronted the era's major social issues. It notes the stylistic confluence and exchanges between three forms: the traditional studio movie based on the combination of stars and genres, low-budget exploitation movies, and the international art cinema.

As the author reveals this complex period of American filmmaking was neither random nor the product of unique talents working in a vacuum. The filmmakers met head on with an evolving American social conscience to create a Hollywood cinema of an era defined by events such as the Vietnam War, the rise of the civil rights movement and the moon landing. Writing Guide with Handbook Michelle Bachelor Robinson, Maria Jerskey, Toby Fulwiler, 2021-12-14. Writing Guide with Handbook aligns to the goals, topics and objectives of many first year writing and composition courses. It is organized according to relevant genres and focuses on the writing process, effective writing practices or strategies including graphic organizers, writing frames and word banks to support visual learning and conventions of usage and style. The text includes an editing and documentation handbook which provides information on grammar and mechanics, common usage errors and citation styles. Writing Guide with Handbook breaks down barriers in the field of composition by offering an inviting and inclusive approach to students of all intersectional identities. To meet this goal, the text creates a reciprocal relationship between everyday rhetoric and the evolving world of academia. Writing Guide with Handbook builds on students' life experiences and their participation in rhetorical communities within the familiar contexts of personal interaction and social media. The text seeks to extend these existing skills by showing students how to construct a variety of compelling compositions in a variety of formats, situations and contexts. The authors conceived and developed Writing Guide with Handbook in 2020; its content and learning experiences reflect the instructional, societal and individual challenges students have faced. The authors invite students and instructors to practice invitational discussions even as they engage in verbal and written argument. Instructors will be empowered to emphasize meaning and voice and to teach empathy as a rhetorical strategy. Students will be empowered to negotiate their identities and their cultures through language as they join us in writing, discovering, learning and creating. This is an adaptation of Writing Guide with Handbook by OpenStax. You can access the textbook as pdf for free at openstax.org. Minor editorial changes were made to ensure a better ebook reading experience. This is an open educational resource (OER) textbook for university and college students. Designing Hollywood Christian Esquevin, 2023-08-29. Since the 1920s fashion has played a central role in Hollywood. As the movie-going population consisted largely of women, studios made a concerted effort to attract a female audience by foregrounding fashion. Magazines featured actresses like Jean Harlow and Joan Crawford bedecked in luxurious gowns, selling their glamour as enthusiastically as the film itself. Whereas actors and actresses previously wore their own clothing, major studios hired costume designers and wardrobe staff to fabricate bespoke costumes for their film stars. Designers from a variety of backgrounds, including haute couture and art design, were offered long-term contracts to work on multiple movies. Though their work typically went uncredited, they were charged with creating an image for each star that would help define an actor both on and off screen. The practice of working long-term with a single studio disappeared when the studio system began unraveling in the 1950s. By the 1970s, studios had disbanded their wardrobe departments and auctioned off their costumes and props In Designing Hollywood Studio Wardrobe in the Golden Age Christian Esquevin showcases the designers who dressed Hollywood's stars from the late 1910s through the 1960s and the unique symbiosis they developed with their studios in creating iconic looks Studio by studio Esquevin details the careers of designers like Vera West who worked on Universal productions such as Phantom of the Opera 1925 Dracula 1931 and Bride of Frankenstein 1931 William Travilla the talent behind Marilyn Monroe's dresses in Gentleman Prefer Blondes 1953 and The Seven Year Itch 1955 and Walter Plunkett the Oscar winning designer for film classics like Gone with the Wind 1939 and An American in Paris 1951 Featuring black and white photographs of leading ladies in their iconic looks as well as captivating original color sketches Designing Hollywood takes the reader on a journey from drawing board to silver screen

The Poetics and Politics of the American Gothic Professor Agnieszka Soltysik Monnet, 2013-04-28 Taking as its point of departure recent insights about the performative nature of genre The Poetics and Politics of the American Gothic challenges the critical tendency to accept at face value that gothic literature is mainly about fear Instead Agnieszka Soltysik Monnet argues that the American Gothic and gothic literature in general is also about judgment how to judge and what happens when judgment is confronted with situations that defy its limits Poe Hawthorne Melville Gilman and James all shared a concern with the political and ideological debates of their time but tended to approach these debates indirectly Thus Monnet suggests while slavery and race are not the explicit subject matter of antebellum works by Poe and Hawthorne they nevertheless permeate it through suggestive analogies and tacit references Similarly Melville Gilman and James use the gothic to explore the categories of gender and sexuality that were being renegotiated during the latter half of the century Focusing on The Fall of the House of Usher The Marble Faun Pierre The Turn of the Screw and The Yellow Wallpaper Monnet brings to bear minor texts by the same authors that further enrich her innovative readings of these canonical works At the same time her study persuasively argues that the Gothic's endurance and ubiquity are in large part related to its being uniquely adapted to rehearse questions about judgment and justice that continue to fascinate and disturb
