

ECONOMICS 1B (ECS 1601)

INTERDEPENDENCE OF THE MAJOR SECTORS, MARKET AND FLOWS IN A MIXED ECONOMY

- Production is not pursued for its own benefit, the ultimate aim is to use or consume the products to satisfy human wants.
- Production creates income and this income is then spent to purchase products.
- This process contains 3 major elements are:
  - Production
  - Income
  - Spending
- One problem is how the income is distributed among the various participants in the economy.
- The following are 4 economic participants:
  - Household/Consumption (C)
  - Government Expenditure (G)
  - Foreign sector (Exports & Imports) (F)
  - Businesses/Firms (B)
- Production, income and spending are all FLOWS.
- Stock variable – can only be measured at a particular point in time and has no time dimension (wealth, assets, liabilities, capital, population, and balance on savings account).
- FLOW VARIABLE – can be measured over a period of time (income, profit, loss, investment).
- In mixed economy households, firms, government and foreign sector are all participants.
- Exchange is an important economic activity that links all the various sectors.

1. HOUSEHOLDS

- Households can be defined as all the people who live together and who make joint economic decisions.
- Can be an individual, whole family.
- These members are called consumers.
- Consumption – the act of using or consuming goods and services.
- Symbol C – total consumption or consumer.

In a market economy it is the households or consumers that largely determine what should be produced.

In a mixed economy most of the factors of production are owned by households.

The Extinction of Experience Christine Rosen,2024-09-10 An Esquire Best Book of 2024 A reflective original invitation to recover and cultivate the human experiences that have atrophied in our virtual world We embraced the mediated life from Facetune and Venmo to meme culture and the Metaverse because these technologies offer novelty and convenience But they also transform our sense of self and warp the boundaries between virtual and real What are the costs Who are we in a disembodied world In The Extinction of Experience Christine Rosen investigates the cultural and emotional shifts that accompany our embrace of technology In warm philosophical prose Rosen reveals key human experiences at risk of going extinct including face to face communication sense of place authentic emotion and even boredom Considering cultural trends like TikTok challenges and mukbang and politically unsettling phenomena like sociometric trackers and online conspiracy culture Rosen exposes an unprecedented shift in the human condition one that habituates us to alienation and control To recover our humanity and come back to the real world we must reclaim serendipity community patience and risk

Re-imagining University Assessment in a Digital World Margaret Bearman,Phillip Dawson,Rola Ajjawi,Joanna Tai,David Boud,2020-07-13 This book is the first to explore the big question of how assessment can be refreshed and redesigned in an evolving digital landscape There are many exciting possibilities for assessments that contribute dynamically to learning

However the interface between assessment and technology is limited Often assessment designers do not take advantage of digital opportunities Equally digital innovators sometimes draw from models of higher education assessment that are no longer best practice This gap in thinking presents an opportunity to consider how technology might best contribute to mainstream assessment practice Internationally recognised experts provide a deep and unique consideration of assessment s contribution to the technology mediated higher education sector The treatment of assessment is contemporary and spans notions of assessment for learning measurement and the roles of peer and self within assessment Likewise the view of educational technology is broad and includes gaming learning analytics and new media The intersection of these two worlds provides opportunities dilemmas and exemplars This book serves as a reference for best practice and also guides future thinking about new ways of conceptualising designing and implementing assessment

The School Reform Landscape Reloaded Christopher H. Tienken, 2020-10-30 The School Reform Landscape Reloaded More Fear Myths and Lies peels back the curtain of school reform to examine the tensions that exist between the democratic and equitable system of public education and the emerging dual system based on elite interests aimed at profit making and decreasing education equity The author takes in depth and controversial look at school reform since the launch of Sputnik I Education reform events proposals and policies are examined through the lens of progressivist philosophy and critical social theory Some of the issues and policies critiqued include the neoliberal corporate influence on education the Sputnik myth A Nation At Risk standardization charter schools and other relevant topics The author provides an evidence based view of the free market reform ideas and he pierces the veil of the new reform policies to find that they are not built upon empirical evidence but instead rest solidly on foundations of myth fear and lies Ideas for a new set of reform policies based on empirical evidence and supportive of a unitary equitable and democratic system of education are presented

Making Up Our Mind Sigal R. Ben-Porath, Michael C. Johanek, 2019-04-24 If free market advocates had total control over education policy would the shared public system of education collapse Would school choice revitalize schooling with its innovative force With proliferating charters and voucher schemes would the United States finally make a dramatic break with its past and expand parental choice Those are not only the wrong questions they re the wrong premises argue philosopher Sigal R Ben Porath and historian Michael C Johanek in Making Up Our Mind Market driven school choices aren t new They predate the republic and for generations parents have chosen to educate their children through an evolving mix of publicly supported private charitable and entrepreneurial enterprises The question is not whether to have school choice It is how we will regulate who has which choices in our mixed market for schooling and what we as a nation hope to accomplish with that mix of choices Looking beyond the simplistic divide between those who oppose government intervention and those who support public education the authors make the case for a structured landscape of choice in schooling one that protects the interests of children and of society while also identifying key shared values on which a broadly acceptable policy could rest
