Postmodernism, Feminism, and Cultural Politics Henry A. Giroux, 1991-01-22 This book introduces central assumptions that govern postmodern and feminist theory offering educators a language to create new ways of conceiving pedagogy and its relationship to social cultural and intellectual life It challenges some of the major categories and practices that have dominated educational theory and practice in the United States and in other countries since the beginning of the twentieth century Rejecting the apolitical nature of some postmodern discourses and the separatism characteristic of some versions of cultural feminism the contributors take a political stand rooted in concern with cultural and social justice In so doing these essays represent a linguistic shift regarding how we think about ethics foundationalism difference and culture The selections present a concern with developing a language that is critical of master narratives racism sexism and those technologies of power in schools that subjugate infantilize and oppress students The authors also develop a language of possibility that focuses on analyzing how power can be linked productively to knowledge how teachers can construct classroom social relations based on notions of equity and justice how critical pedagogy can contribute to an identity politics that is grounded in democratic relations and how teachers can develop analyses that enable students to become self reflective actors as they transform themselves and the conditions of their social existence

Marxism Against Postmodernism in Educational Theory Dave Hill, 2002-01-01 Written by renowned British and American educational theorists Marxism Against Postmodernism in Educational Theory a substantially revised edition of the original 1999 work examines the infusion of postmodernism and theories of postmodernity into educational theory policy and research Marxism Against Postmodernism in Educational Theory Mike Cole, Dave Hill, Peter McLaren, 2002-12-11 Postmodernism has become the orthodoxy in educational theory It heralds the end of grand theories like Marxism and liberalism scorning any notion of a united feminist challenge to patriarchy of united anti racist struggle and of united working class movements against capitalist exploitation and oppression For postmodernists the world is fragmented history is ended and all struggles are local and particularistic Written by internationally renowned British and American educational theorists Marxism Against Postmodernism in Educational Theory a substantially revised edition of the original 1999 work Postmodernism in Educational Theory critically examines the infusion of postmodernism and theories of postmodernity into educational theory policy and research The writers argue that postmodernism provides neither a viable educational politics nor the foundation for effective radical educational practice and offer an alternative politics of human resistance which puts the challenge to capitalism firmly on the agenda of educational theory politics and practice

The Lucid Vigil Stella Gaon, 2019-02-06 Winner of the 2020

Symposium Book Award by the Canadian Society for Continental Philosophy Stella Gaon provides the first fully philosophical account of the critical nature of deconstruction and she does so by turning in an original way to psychoanalysis Drawing on close readings of Freud and Laplanche Gaon argues that Derridean deconstruction is driven by a normative investment in reason's psychological force Indeed deconstruction is more faithful to the principle of reason than the various forms of critical theory prevalent today For if one pursues the classical demand for rational grounds vigilantly one finds that claims to ethical or political legitimacy cannot be rationally justified because they are undone by logical undecidability Gaon's argument is borne out in the cases of Kantian deontology Deweyan pragmatism progressive pedagogy Habermasian moral theory Levinasian ethics and others What emerges is the groundbreaking demonstration that deconstruction is impelled by a quasi ethical critical drive and that to read deconstructively is to radicalize the emancipatory practice of reason as self critique This important volume will be of great value to critical theorists as well as to Derrida scholars and researchers in social and political thought

Critical Realism for Marxist Sociology of Education Grant Banfield, 2015-09-16 This book offers a critical realist intervention into the field of Marxist Sociology of Education Critical realism as developed by British philosopher Roy Bhaskar is known for its capacity to serve as a conceptual underlabourer to applied fields like education Indeed its success in clarifying and resolving thorny issues of educational theory and practice is now well established Given critical realism's sympathetic Marxist origins its productive and critical engagement with Marxism has an even longer history To date there has been little sustained attention given to the application of critical realism to Marxist educational praxis The book addresses this gap in existing scholarship Its conceptual ground clearing of the field of Marxist Sociology of Education centres on two problematics well known in the social sciences naturalism and the structure agency relation Marxist theory from the days of Marx to the present is shown to also be haunted by these problematics This has resulted in considerable tension around the meaning and nature of for example reform revolution class determinism and class struggle With its emergence in the 1970s as a child of Western Marxism the field continues to be an expression of these tensions that seriously limit its transformative potential Addressing these issues and offering conceptual clarification in the interests of revolutionary educational practice Critical Realism for Marxist Sociology of Education provides a new perspective on education which will be of interest to students scholars and practitioners alike

Take Back Higher Education Henry A. Giroux, Susan Searls Giroux, 2004-05-10 Higher education is under siege No longer viewed as a public good it is attacked by businesses who want to refashion institutions in the image of the marketplace Higher education is the target of cultural conservatives who have undermined academic freedom and access by deriding the academy as a hotbed of left multicultural radicalism and anti Americanism The historic mission to educate students as citizens motivated by democratic values is overshadowed by profit margins Giroux and Giroux argue that the greatest danger faced by higher education comes from corporatization and educational apartheid If higher education is to meet the challenges of a democratic future it must encourage students to be critical thinkers and citizens as it vouchsafes conditions for educators to produce scholarship in the service of an inclusive democracy National School Policy (1996) Jim Docking,2018-02-06 Published in 1996 this book presents a broad overview of the development of educational policy for schools in England and Wales since Margaret Thatcher s Conservative administration took office in 1979 It reviews the separate strands of education policy as it relates to curriculum equal educational opportunities diversity and choice and management policies and combines these with an overall appraisal of the direction of the schools system in the two decades before it was written The book thereby provides a comprehensive text for undergraduate and postgraduate students which raises issues for debate and includes support material for discussion It will also be of interest to school governors educationalists and all those who care about the direction of educational change Border Crossings Henry A. Giroux,2007-05-11 The concept of border and border crossing has important implications for how we theorize cultural politics power ideology pedagogy and critical intellectual work This completely revised and updated edition takes these areas and draws new connections between postmodernism feminism cultural studies and critical pedagogy Highly relevant to the times which we currently live Giroux reflects on the limits and possibilities of border crossings in the twenty first century and argues that in the post 9 11 world borders have not been collapsing but vigorously rebuilt The author identifies the most pressing issues facing critical educators at the turn of the century and discusses topics such as the struggle over the academic canon the role of popular culture in the curriculum and the cultural war the New Right has waged on schools New sections deal with militarization in public spaces empire building and the cultural politics of neoliberalism Those interested in cultural studies critical race theory education sociology and speech communication will find this a valuable source of information Good News Clifford G.
