Principles and Practices in Interscholastic Athletics James Harry Humphrey, 2002 Principles Practices in Interscholastic Athletics Guidelines for Administrators

Widening the Circle Mara Sapon-Shevin, 2007-03-15 Widening the Circle is a passionate even radical argument for creating school and classroom environments where all kids including children labeled as disabled and special needs are welcome on equal terms In opposition to traditional models of special education where teachers decide when a child is deemed ready to compete in mainstream classes Mara Sapon Shevin articulates a vision of full inclusion as a practical and moral goal Inclusion she argues begins not with the assumption that students have to earn their way into the classroom with their behavior or skills it begins with the right of every child to be in the mainstream of education perhaps with modifications adaptations and support Full inclusion requires teachers to think about all aspects of their classrooms pedagogy curriculum and classroom climate Crucially Sapon Shevin takes on arguments against full inclusion in a section of straight talking answers to common questions She agrees with critics that the rhetoric of inclusion has been used to justify eliminating services and dumping students with significant educational needs unceremoniously back into the mainstream with little or no support If full inclusion is properly implemented however she argues it not only clearly benefits those traditionally excluded but enhances the educations and lives of those considered mainstream in myriad ways Through powerful storytelling and argument Sapon Shevin lays out the moral and educational case for not separating kids on the basis of difference

Companies We Keep John Abrams, 2008-11-08 Part memoir and part examination of a new business model the 2005 release of The Company We Keep marked the debut of an important new voice in the literature of American business Now in Companies We Keep the revised and expanded edition of his 2005 work John Abrams further develops his idea that companies flourish when they become centers of interdependence or communities of enterprise Thoroughly revised with an expanded focus on employee ownership and workplace democracy Companies We Keep celebrates the idea that when employees share in the rewards as well as the responsibility for the decisions they make better decisions result This is an especially timely topic Most of the baby boomer generation the owners of millions of American businesses will retire within the next two decades In 2001 50 000 businesses changed hands In 2005 that number rose to 350 000 Projections call for 750 000 ownership transitions in 2009 Employee ownership in both the philosophical and the practical sense is gathering steam as businesses change hands and Abrams examines some of the many ways this is done Companies We Keep is structured around eight principles from Sharing Ownership and Cultivating Workplace Democracy to Thinking Like Cathedral Builders and Committing to the Business of Place that Abrams has discovered in the 32 years since he cofounded South Mountain Company on the island of Martha s Vineyard Together these principles reveal communities of enterprise as a potent force of change that can and will improve the way Americans do business
