Judgments of Beauty in Theory Evaluation Devon Brickhouse-Bryson, 2020-07-01 In Judgments of Beauty in Theory Evaluation Devon Brickhouse Bryson argues that judgments of beauty are a justified part of theory evaluation of all sorts including both scientific theory evaluation and philosophical theory evaluation He supports this argument with an account of beauty inherited from Kant and Mothersill on which the distinctive nature of judgments of beauty is that they are unprincipled yet possible Brickhouse Bryson analyzes two important methods of theory evaluation reflective equilibrium and simplicity and argues that these methods require making judgments of beauty understood He further argues that these methods of theory evaluation are not anomalies but that they point to a deeper lesson about the nature of theorizing and the necessity of using judgments of beauty to evaluate systems like theories This book has implications for the debate in philosophy of science over judgments of beauty and also prompts a reckoning in philosophy itself over the use of judgments of beauty in philosophical theory evaluation Steel's Ship-master's Assistant, and Owner's Manual David Steel,1839

Stern, 2025-09-25 The Victorian period gave rise to revelatory new approaches to art instruction A growing investment in standardized education the rise of exhibition culture and an expanding body of literature devoted to the teaching of art all contributed to very public and sometimes contentious debates about art pedagogy Surveying a range of instructional scenarios from the schoolroom to the Royal Academy The Forms and Fictions of Victorian Art Instruction reveals the creative and even radical methods nineteenth century writers brought to questions that inform educational debate to this day What is the role of art in the learning process Should art instruction provide students with practical skills or does art defy such instrumental concerns Above all is it possible for art instruction to impose structure on the learning process while also nurturing the creative autonomy art demands Through an interdisciplinary and deeply historical account of art instruction that incorporates fiction poetry art manuals and innovative hybrid genres this book contends that nineteenth century writers defended the educational value of art by abandoning expository writing in favor of highly experimental literary forms In this way The Forms and Fictions of Victorian Art Instruction supplies a new history of art teaching one that sheds light on the educational and cultural dilemmas we continue to face today
