Lomelí, Osiris Aníbal Gómez, 2023-06-20 For the first time this book presents the distinguished prolific and highly experimental writer Juan Felipe Herrera This wide ranging collection of essays by leading experts offers critical approaches on Herrera who transcends ethnic and mainstream poetics It expertly demonstrates Herrera's versatility resourcefulness innovations and infinite creativity As a poet Herrera has had an enormous impact within and beyond Chicano poetics He embodies much of the advancements and innovations found in American and Latin American poetry from the early 1970s to the present His writings have no limits or boundaries indulging in the quotidian as well as the overarching topics of his era at different periods of his life Both Herrera and his work are far from being unidimensional His poetics are eclectic incessantly diverse transnational unorthodox and distinctive Reading Herrera is an act of having to rearrange your perceptions about things events historical or intra historical happenings and people The essays in this work delve deeply into Juan Felipe

Herrera's oeuvre and provide critical perspectives on his body of work. They include discussion of Chicana indigeneity, social justice, environmental imaginaries, Herrera's knack for challenging theory and poetics, transborder experiences, transgeneric constructions, and children's and young adult literature. This book includes an extensive interview with the poet and a voluminous bibliography on everything by/about and on the author. The chapters in this book offer a deep dive into the life and work of an internationally beloved poet who, along with serving as the poet laureate of California and the U.S. poet laureate, creates work that fosters a deep understanding of and appreciation for people's humanity.

Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature, 1922     The 21st-Century Elementary School Library Program

Carl A. Harvey II, 2016-12-05. Compact yet remarkably comprehensive, this book covers all the major aspects of school library services from administration to instruction, focused from the elementary school librarian perspective, now updated and expanded to include the latest developments in makerspaces, the Common Core, social networking, and eBooks. How do you accomplish a technology transformation at a time when budgets are extremely limited? What is the proper location for web-based social networking in the school library? What are the best practices for working together with students, parents, and educators? The 21st Century Elementary School Library Program: Managing for Results is an invaluable resource for answers to these and many more questions, as it brings together in one volume the advice and insights you need to bring your library into the new century. This invaluable guide provides tips and techniques, forms and templates, and advice on everything from staffing and budgeting to collaborating with teachers and other libraries, to Web 2.0 and other new computer tools for building collections and devising special programs. Whether you are just getting started or are a library veteran seeking effective program renewal, this book belongs on your shelf.

Michael Orey, V. J. McClendon, Robert Maribe Branch, 2009-05-28. The Educational Media and Technology Yearbook has become a standard reference in many libraries and professional collections. Examined in relation to its companion volumes of the past, it provides a valuable historical record of current ideas and developments in the field. Part I, Trends and Issues, presents an array of chapters that develop some of the current themes listed above, in addition to others. Part II, Library and Information Science, concentrates upon chapters of special relevance to K-12 education, library science, education, school learning resources, and various types of library and media centers, school, public, and academic, among others. In Part III, Leadership Profiles, authors provide biographical sketches of the careers of instructional technology leaders. Part IV, Organizations and Associations in North America, and Part V, Graduate Programs in North America, are respectively directories of instructional technology-related organizations and institutions of higher learning offering degrees in
