H. Band, Chandramallika Basak, Heleen A. Slagter, Michelle W. Voss, 2016-05-17 Cognitive training is not always effective This is also the case for the form of cognitive training that this Research Topic focuses on prolonged performance on game like cognitive tasks The ultimate goal of this cognitive training is to improve ecologically valid target functions For example cognitive training should help children with ADHD to stay focused at school or help older adults to manage the complexity of daily life However so far this goal has proven too ambitious Transfer from trained to non trained tasks is not even guaranteed in a laboratory so there is a strong need for understanding how when and for how long cognitive training has effect Which cognitive functions are amenable to game training for whom and how Are there mediating factors for success such as motivation attention or age Are the improvements real or can they be attributed to nonspecific factors such as outcome expectancy or demand characteristics Are there better strategies to improve cognitive functions through game training This Research Topic of Frontiers in Human Neuroscience charts current insights in the determinants of success of game training Ecobehavioral Consultation in Schools Steven W. Lee, Christopher R. Niileksela, 2014-03-14 Ecobehavioral Consultation in Schools is a practical theory based text that advances the practice of ecobehavioral consultation EBC and teaches consultants how to develop their own successful practice It includes examples of what the consultant could say at each step of the process over 30 easy to use forms and more than 60 interventions available for download on the book s website In addition the explication of EBC theory helps the reader to better understand the big picture of each problem going well beyond a strict behavioral approach to understand family social cultural historical and internal influences Ecobehavioral Consultation in Schools is the perfect companion for students in consultation training programs such as special education school psychology school counseling school social work or for any other school professional interested in working collaboratively with teachers and parents Collision Course Paul Manna, 2010-10-12 What happens when federal officials try to accomplish goals that depend on the resources and efforts of state and local governments Focusing on the nation s experience with the No Child Left Behind Act NCLB Manna s engaging case study considers just that question Beyond the administrative challenges NCLB unleashed Collision Course examines the dynamics at work when federal policymakers hold state and local governments accountable for results Ambitions for higher performance collide with governing structures and practices Were the collisions valuable for their potential to transform education policy or has the law inflicted too much damage on state and local institutions responsible for educating the nation s youth The results have been both positive and negative As Manna points to increased capabilities in states and localities he also looks at expanded bureaucratic requirements Collision Course offers a balanced and in depth assessment of a policy that has sparked heated debate over a broad expanse of time from NCLB's adoption through its implementation to the Obama administration's attempts to shift away Federalism the policymaking process and the complexity of education policy all get their due in this accessible and analytical supplement Spectrum Texas Test Prep Vincent
