Unpalatable Carrie Helms Tippen,2025-01-15 The cookbook genre is highly conventional with an orientation toward celebration and success From glossy photographs to heartwarming stories and adjective rich ingredient lists the cookbook tradition primes readers for pleasure Yet the overarching narrative of the region is often one of pain loss privation exploitation poverty and suffering of various kinds While some cookbook writers go to great lengths to avoid reminding readers of this painful past others invoke that pain as a marker of southern authenticity Still others use stories of southern suffering as an opportunity to make space for reconciliation reparation or apology for past wrongs In Unpalatable Stories of Pain and Pleasure in Southern Cookbooks author Carrie Helms Tippen attempts to understand the unique rhetorical situation of the southern cookbook as it negotiates a tension between the expectations of the genre and the prevailing metanarratives of the southern experience one focused on pleasure and the other rooted in pain Through an analysis of commercially published southern cookbooks from the 1990s to the present Tippen examines the range of rhetorical purposes and strategies writers have employed some of which undermine the reality of a painful past and cause harm or violence and others which serve as tools for truth and reconciliation

Dying Is Not Death Lee Hoinacki,2007-01-01 Dying Is Not Death examines from a traditional humanistic position the act of dying The author views death as a universal experience that can and perhaps should force us to explore various technological intrusions upon it Each chapter is an independent narrative and some chapters tell stories of those struggling to die when confronted with the medical system s technological artifacts Recounting different persons experiences of death Lee Hoinacki suggests that the medical system s conventional approaches to dying and death can distort our preparation for this most important experience Borrowing from Jacques Ellul and Ivan Illich Hoinacki acknowledges technology as an all embracing system with powerful symbolic effects on the human condition and argues to a conflict between faith and technology Indeed with Ellul he holds that in order to criticize technology one must find some place outside the technological milieu that would act as a kind of Archimedean lever One must somehow get to the Beyond to judge where one stands in the
